

THE CARQUINEZ

Dedication of Richmond's New Community Hotel Will be Marked Tonight With Grand Celebration

Two hundred persons, representing civic, fraternal and social organizations of the city will attend the banquet tonight, the formal opening of Richmond's crowning achievement, the Hotel Carquinez. Thousands of residents and visitors from out of town will attend the reception and entertainment, part of the celebration prepared for the long-awaited event.

COMMITTEES BUSY

During the past month while the building was nearing completion, committees of the chamber of commerce, sponsors of the community hotel, have been busy perfecting plans so that the opening would be fittingly celebrated.

EVERYONE INVITED

All Richmond has been invited to attend the festivities although the banquet accommodations are limited to 200. Special invitations have been extended by the chamber of commerce to the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Richmond Merchants association, the Business and Professional Women's club, the Builders Exchange and the various fraternal organizations in the city together with chambers of commerce throughout the Bay regions. Committees from the local organizations have been cooperating with the chamber of commerce to make the event one of the stellar affairs in the history of Richmond.

ENTERTAINMENT

The program committee, headed by Aubrey Wilson, has secured the best available artists to furnish the entertainment for the occasion. The great Adolpho, former Orpheum circuit entertainer, and known on three continents as a star de luxe will be but one of the features of this part of the program.

Mrs. Edith T. Cunningham, of the entertainment committee, has secured Marie Wallman, soprano soloist of recognized ability. Miss Wallman is one of radio KTAB's famous artists and her numbers are certain of a good reception. Dorothy Duke Dimm, cello soloist, also secured by Mrs. Cunningham has arranged a program which will appeal to the tastes of the guests. Mrs. Cunningham will be accompanist for both soloists.

Bert Carter secured Michael Patrick Brennan, dramatic tenor, as one of the stellar artists for the program. He is a vital figure in the musical world and his programs are always well received.

J. E. Hill and his concert orchestra of seven pieces will play during the banquet and for the dancing which will follow the entertainment. Every member of this orchestra is regarded as an artist.

As an added feature of the evening, after the regular program, and during the dancing, Miss Jeanette Herrod, well-known in this community will render the Fire Fly dance. Mrs. Ruth Newcomb will accompany Miss Herrod on the piano.

Bert Carter has arranged a surprise feature as part of the program.

SANFORD TOASTMASTER

P. M. Sanford will be toastmaster of the evening and will introduce the speakers. A number of prominent out-of-town guests have accepted invitations to be present. That a banquet which will please the epicurean tastes of the public will be served in the main dining room is assured by the orders of Charles B. Hamilton, president of the Hamilton chain of hotels and lessee of the Hotel Carquinez, who has declared that nothing has been omitted to have the feast in keeping with the event.

MAYOR TO RECEIVE

The reception committee headed by Mayor Mrs. Mattie Chandler and E. M. Downer, president of the Richmond Community Hotel company, Inc., will be composed of men and women prominent in the civic, commercial, fraternal and social life of the city.

DECORATIONS

Decorations for the occasion have been arranged by a committee headed by C. C. Kratzer, assisted by Mrs. Marie Macdonald Jensen, Mrs. F. B. LaMoine, Fire Chief W. P. Cooper and Bert Tucker.

Marking as it does the completion of Richmond's first first-class hotel and the first community erected hotel in the immediate bay district, the opening tonight marks an event which has been looked forward to by residents of the entire bay district.

The following are the various committees which have worked toward making the formal opening tonight a success, and an event to be long remembered:

MAYOR CHANDLER WELCOMES THE NEW CARQUINEZ HOTEL AS ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

By MAYOR MATTIE A. CHANDLER

As mayor of Richmond, it gives me great pleasure on this occasion to welcome to our city the Hotel Carquinez. The building of this new hostelry as a community enterprise is another of the steps in progress taken by our city.

Richmond has been in need of a hotel to accommodate out-of-town guests with the continued growth of the city which is bound to come. I am sure the Hotel Carquinez will be an added attraction toward bringing residents to our city.

We can point with pride to our new hotel. I want to congratulate every one who in any way has been instrumental in the building of this new addition to the commercial and social growth of Richmond.

MAYOR HEADS RECEPTION AT HOTEL FETE

Mrs. Mattie A. Chandler, Mayor of Richmond, is chairman of the reception committee at the formal opening of the new Hotel Carquinez tonight.

Roof Of New Hotel Offers Wonderful View Of This City And Surroundings

It is a wonderful feeling for the Richmondites, most of whom are stockholders, to ascend to the top of the newest and most modern building in Richmond, the Hotel Carquinez, at Tenth street and Nevins avenue, and walk on this block of cement over the water-proof covering, and under the folds of old glory attached to its sturdy flagstaff.

It gives one the feeling of awe to look over the city of Richmond. The grey of the bay, the sun sparkling upon the rippling waters seems as a cool breeze striking over a beautiful city. Richmond's water front, its wharves and the bustle of boats, ferries makes an impression of the American race... hurry... bustle... rush.

The white tanks of the Standard Oil Company, glistening in the sunlight... the stacks, vomiting belows of smoke like an angry dragon of old... bustle... hurry... peace.

Macdonald avenue, the "Main Street" of Richmond stretches before one. The hurrying of cars, trucks, street cars, people. Below stretches Tenth street, another busy artery.

Then the eyes wander, taking in the groups of houses, seemingly never to end. The glisten of the sun upon the water again draws the eyes and far away in the distance can be seen the Carquinez straits, seemingly a narrow, silver thread in the distance.

The hills, golden brown in the sunlight, call. Over there are the Pullman shops, with its yard full of Pullman cars. Again the waters of the bay call and over the slight mist the spires of Oakland over there to the right, San Francisco and what is that? Those two hills descending into the water? That narrow gap is the Golden Gate, the gate to the world.

Your eyes trace the course of the water, down through San Pablo bay and the plant of the Standard Sanitary plant looks upon you.

Then the air cools, and the red sun that has been hanging over the Golden Gate descends. The sky is bathed in a riot of colors, first red then orange and then the sun's edge dips into the waters, the sky turns to purple. The air is cooler, the night has drawn down its shades. Below the street lights start to twinkle, lights in the house flash on a streak of light, an automobile.

But still the spell of enchantment, how lovely, how beautiful that of beautiful Richmond.

Executive Committee Of Community Hotel Project Worked Hard In Campaign

Following the definite decision to build a community hotel in Richmond the directors of the chamber of commerce began the division of the work into committees to handle the enterprise more efficiently.

Officers of the Richmond Community Hotel, Inc. were E. M. Downer, president; Charles S. Renwick, vice-president; H. A. Johnston, treasurer and Guy W. Wolf, secretary. Upon the resignation of Guy Wolf as secretary of the chamber of commerce, H. A. Johnston was appointed secretary treasurer of the organization.

Following the survey made by the Hockenbury Hotel System, Inc. plans for a campaign to sell the stock to Richmond residents the Campaign Executive committee was appointed which was composed of the following men: H. A. Johnston, chairman, W. L. Ballenger, J. F. Brooks, E. B. Bull, E. A. Burg, T. H. DeLap, E. M. Downer, Paul Edwards, J. F. Galvin, M. A. Hays, A. P. Hill, E. H. Higgins, C. C. Kratzer, Fred B. LaMoine, O. R. Ludewig, W. D. Mason, G. E. Milnes, A. L. Paulsen, J. H. Plate, Charles S. Renwick, George A. Rooker, P. M. Sanford, Hall W. Sanders, J. P. Strom, E. M. Tilden, Walter Willis, Guy W. Wolf, Aubrey Wilson and Larkia J. Younce.

Service Clubs to Hold Meetings in Hotel Carquinez

The three principal service clubs of this city, among the sponsors of the new Hotel Carquinez, have taken advantage of the facilities and the food of the new hostelry and are making the hotel's banquet rooms the setting for their weekly luncheons.

The clubs are the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary. All three entered heartily into the spirit of the campaign to put the hotel over and have always lent their efforts to making the community hotel a reality.

The ladies of the various churches where the clubs have met have shown unselfish interest by heartily endorsing the idea of the clubs patronizing the hotel to give it a boost.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hutchison, of Stockton were guests at the home of Rev and Mrs. C. F. Withers, of Pinole this week. Milnes and Mrs. Harry Milnes, of Stockton were guests at the home of Rev and Mrs. C. F. Withers, of Pinole this week. Milnes and Mrs. Harry Milnes, of Stockton were guests at the home of Rev and Mrs. C. F. Withers, of Pinole this week.

Carquinez Is Most Modern In All Of Its Departments

The most imposing structure on the Richmond skyline is Richmond's community "Hotel Carquinez" at Tenth street and Nevins avenue representing everything that is the most modern in the hotel world today.

FIREPROOF

The sturdy fireproof reinforced concrete building with its buff colored brick front on both Tenth street and Nevins avenue is a pleasing sight to the eyes of the newcomer as well as of those who have been watching the development of Richmond for many years.

The marquee over the front entrance on Tenth street with the lettering "Hotel Carquinez," electrically lighted is probably the first thing that attracts the attention of the visitor.

THE LOUNGE

We enter the lounge through the swinging door and are taken on a tour of inspection of the five story building by Senator Charles B. Hamilton, head of the Hamilton chain who is in Richmond during the opening of the new hostelry the latest in his chain.

The floor of the lounge is of tile and we are impressed by the high ceiling, and the well appointed fixtures which give the lounge a homelike atmosphere. The walls are paneled in Philippine mahogany and the entire room is well lighted with both ornamental floor lamps and huge wrought iron chandeliers of the candleabra type.

FURNITURE

The furniture is of a handsome character—not the usual stereotyped kind found in hotels—with a pleasing design. It is upholstered in needle point tapestry and mohair plush.

Handsome individual writing tables—smoking stands and occasional tables complete the equipment of the lounge with the exception of the rugs which are of a two toned grey and blue to harmonize with the furniture and the mottled buff and light green stenciled design of the walls.

The draperies of this room are of dark rose velour with cable net lace curtains to harmonize.

STAIRWAY

Leading off the lounge is the entrance to the large roomy stairway—to the elevator—to the club-room and to the main dining room.

The clerks desk occupies a natural position so that it is easily accessible from all points of the main floor of the hotel. A plate glass cigar case is built in the clerks desk.

OFFICE

The clerk's office and the managers office is provided with every modern facility for the transaction of business including a modern telephone switchboard connecting with every room and all departments of the hotel.

The managers desk is in plain sight of the guest, employee or whoever wishes to see him, literally "carrying out the Hamilton Chain Hotel idea of everything open and above board. Another feature of the clerk's office is a handsome safe with the usual steel cash box and ample space for the storage of hotel records and a set of individual steel boxes for the use of guests who wish to avail themselves of this service.

CHECK ROOM

Adjoining the clerk's office is the check room for guest's property and hand luggage as well as other articles which they may wish to have checked.

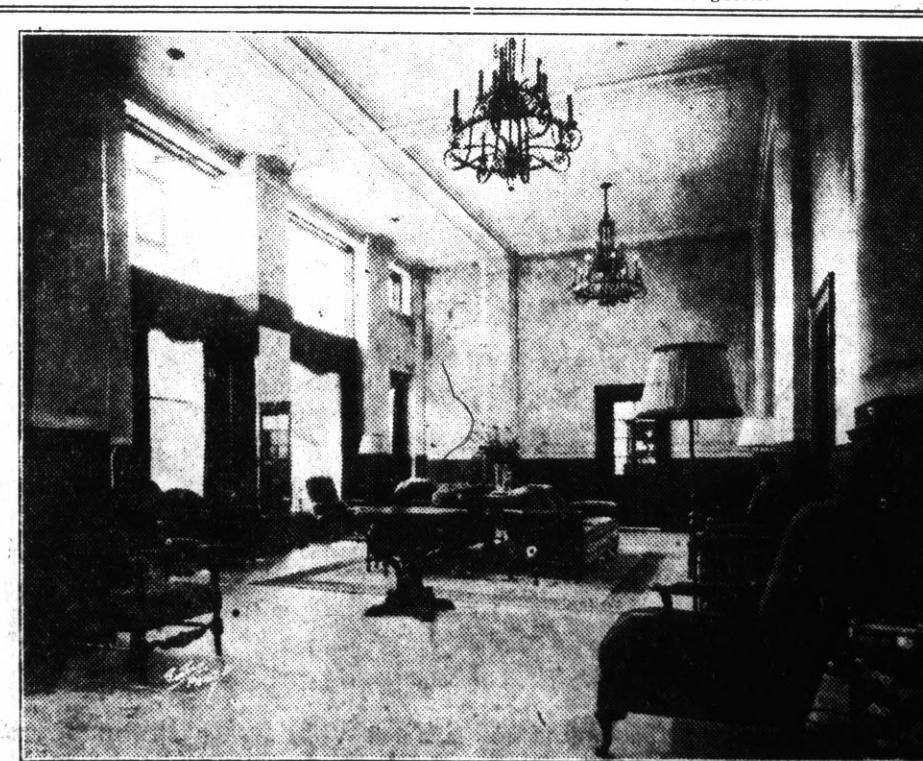

DINING ROOM

The main dining room which enter next seats ordinarily about 100 people—for banquet and party purposes the combined capacity of the club room adjoining and the dining room is approximately 200 persons.

Both the main dining room and the club room has a high ceiling are well lighted and ventilated with large windows and skylights. The clubroom is provided with forced draft ventilation as an auxiliary to insure constantly circulating air.

LOUNGE OF CARQUINEZ HOTEL

One of the most beautifully appointed lounges in any hotel in the state of California can be seen in the Community Hotel the "Carquinez" at Tenth street and Nevins avenue. The comfortable chair and other furnishings of the hotel add much to the comfort of the guests.

Ernest Quaglia Is Improving

The condition of Ernest Quaglia, junior of the Lincoln school who sustained injuries in a fall from a ladder Wednesday afternoon, is said to be improving according to word received from the Berkeley General Hospital last night. Quaglia sustained a fractured vertebrae in the fall from the ladder.

Coroners Inquest Held in Ertel Case

Death caused by a fractured skull, due to being struck on the head by a pipe, was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury as the cause of the death of Henry Ertel. Ertel was struck on the head while lowering a pipe in a ditch at the Shell Oil plant in Martinez on June 25. Coroner Charles F. Donnelly conducted the inquest.

Ten Richmond Residents Pass Citizen Test

The ten Richmond residents who attended the citizenship examinations held in Martinez yesterday before Judge H. V. Alvarado passed the tests, according to an announcement made last night by Mrs. E. H. Axtel, instructor of the Americanization class at the Richmond Union High school. Those who passed the examinations are George Bergme, Mary E. Roberts, George Pleich, Antonio Bonini, Andrew Bellegarde, Dick Roberts, Ernest Simo, Paul Blazevich and Natalie Shananski.

Pope to Elevate Fourteen Priests

(By Universal Service) ROME, July 16.—Pope Pius XI, on the recommendation of John Cardinal Bonzano, papal legate to the recent Eucharistic congress in Chicago, will elevate fourteen priests to the rank of Monsignor for their work in making the congress a success. A score of laymen will be made Knights of St. Gregory for their efforts.

Hotel Carquinez Is Monument To Work Of Progressive Citizens

Richmond's community hotel is today a reality. Marking the climax to a year's earnest effort, the Hotel Carquinez northeast corner of Tenth and Nevins streets, today stands as a monument to the cooperative effort of the community led by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce. It was just a year ago, on June 1, 1925 that the hotel project was first launched. And now the splendid modern, up-to-minute hotel, possessing every convenience of the cosmopolitan hotels in the larger Pacific Coast cities, with its seventy-five guest rooms, its cozy yet roomy and attractive lounge and lobby, its excellent dining room and quick-service counter, is open for business.

The Hotel Carquinez, Richmond's community hotel, is owned by 600 men and women in Richmond. These loyal Richmond folk furnished the cash in subscribing to $205,000 worth of stock which made it possible to buy the site and erect the hotel, representing a grand total investment of approximately $250,000, a quarter of a million dollars!

The new hotel becomes the ninth in a chain of California hotels leased and operated by Charles B. Hamilton, widely known hotel man whose faith in Richmond is as great as that of the Richmond citizen himself.

And now for the first time in its history, Richmond possesses a hotel of the first class type that compares favorably with any hotel of similar size in the west.

In the completion and opening and occupancy of the community hotel, the Richmond Chamber of Commerce may take just pride. It was through this civic organization and the unselfish work of its officers and members that the Hotel Carquinez was made a reality, and has put Richmond to the forefront of California and Pacific Coast cities.

One of the most gratifying facts in connection with the new hotel is that it is built of materials manufactured in Richmond or Contra Costa county or bought through Richmond business houses.

The concrete, lime and cement, the lumber and millwork, the tile and sanitary fixtures, the brick—all are products of Richmond or Contra Costa manufacturing plants and material dealers.

Truly, the Hotel Carquinez is a "community hotel" from the dollars subscribed by Richmond investors to the materials that have gone into its construction.

Richmond now possesses a hostelry where the most distinguished traveler may feel at home, where service and equipment is the best to be obtained.

And the story of the Hotel Carquinez is the story of men and women with faith in their city, the story of the Chamber of Commerce which first conceived the idea and whose officers and executives and members put their "shoulders to the wheel of progress" and carried on to a finish, despite the cry of some who said, "It can't be done." It is the story of putting Richmond on the "hotel map" of America.

On June 1st last year, under the direction of the Hockenbury System of hotel financing, the campaign to raise funds in the community was launched. In nine days, $205,650 had been subscribed. Six hundred men and women had pledged themselves to see "the hotel through to the finish." Their work has been done able and well. The hotel is here, completed and rapidly being occupied.

Ground was broken October 14th last, with elaborate ceremonies under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

When the Hockenbury interests made a preliminary survey of the field for a first class hotel here, they discovered that Richmond was the only city of its size and importance in the United States not possessing such a hostelry.

Then the representative Louis D. Barr, making the survey, found a few people who said, quite frankly: "Why you couldn't raise $150 in Richmond for a hotel."

The report was taken before the Chamber of Commerce. And the answer was quickly given: "Richmond folk will raise the money. The hotel is needed. We'll get behind the plan and Richmond citizens will support it."

The Richmond Community Hotel Inc. was organized. E. M. Downer was elected president and despite his duties as president of the Mechanics Bank he gave unstinted of his time and energy to make the community hotel a reality. Charles S. Renwick, president of the Decora Manufacturing company was elected vice-president. H. A. Johnston, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, realtor and insurance broker, was elected secretary-treasurer and the hills in the background.

And watching the work of progress was Charles B. Hamilton, operator of a chain of California hotels, who was prepared to enter upon a long-time lease of the hotel if its construction was assured. Hamilton did not hesitate when he saw that Richmond "meant business." He has taken a long time lease, he has installed an excellent management which in turn has provided a fine staff of assistants from the bellhops to the chef in the commodious kitchen.

Hamilton just opened the new Marysville Hotel, a noble structure in the upper Sacramento Valley and the Hotel Carquinez in the ninth in the chain of hotels conducted by Hamilton.

Hotel Carquinez is five stories in height. It is strictly fireproof throughout, the only wood used in its construction being the trim.

Its large banquet room, splendid cafe and dining room and the coffee shop are distinctive features. The lounge and lobby possess a distinctive appeal while the drapes and furnishings are the last word in hotel furnishings. Mahogany finish throughout gives additional tone to the hostelry. Then there are the tile floors in the lobby and lounge.

Additional revenue to the hotel will come through the four stores, two of which have already been leased.

The general contractors for the construction of the Hotel Carquinez were Barrett and Hilp of San Francisco and Oakland. The subcontractors were all local men and firms, carrying out the idea of a "community hotel, built by community effort, by community builders."

All floors in the building are of concrete, the only wood used is in the trim, making the hotel a Class A fireproof structure.

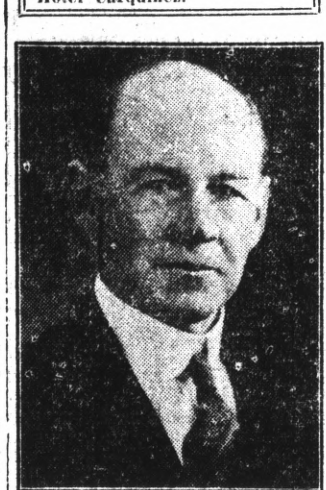

The architect for the hotel was James Plachek of Berkeley.

And so the Hotel Carquinez is a reality. Richmond's first-class hotel is completed and occupied. Richmond's community hotel has been successfully financed and built by the people of Richmond. It will stand as a lasting monument to the faith of Richmond men and women in their city. It will remain as an outstanding accomplishment of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce—that body of men women and firms which thinks and acts in the terms of the community.

All Richmond and Contra Costa county may rejoice in the possession of such a splendid hotel. Hail the Hotel Carquinez.

POSTMASTER AT OPENING OF CARQUINEZ

F. M. Sanford, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce who will be postmaster at the program and ceremonies to be held tonight in honor of the opening of the Hotel Carquinez.

Mose Moch Returns From Trip to North

Mose Moch, manager of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry company, has returned to Richmond from a trip to his native city, Virginia City. This was the first trip made by Moch to his birthplace in fifty years.

In Eureka, where he also visited, he made a search for the grave of his father who was burned in a fire there in 1879. The elder Moch was one of the first commissioners of Washoe county, elected when the county seat was at the town of Washoe City.

Moch has not been to Eureka in forty-eight years and sought the grave of his father to erect a monument to the pioneer. Mose Moch is one of the pioneers of the district his mother having conducted a boarding house on the Comstock in the days when Flood, Macay, Adair and O'Brien became the "big four."

Salesmen With Division And Group Managers Worked Hard To Put Over Hotel Stock Sales

When the survey recommending the erection of a community hotel in Richmond was accepted by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last year they immediately set to work to build an organization to put over the campaign for the stock sales.

The following divisions, division managers, and groups with group managers and salesmen were appointed and gave a great deal of time and effort to put over the drive. This group met every day in the basement of the Memorial hall at a luncheon meeting where the progress of the day was noted and plans were outlined for the next days drive.

ROBERT WREN GAVE NAME TO CARQUINEZ

In the contest conducted by the chamber of commerce to secure a name for the hotel approximately 200 names for the hotel were submitted by members of the Richmond Union High school. Judges for the contest were H. A. Johnston, E. M. Downer and C. B. Hamilton.

Out of the list submitted the judges selected Hotel Alvarado, Hotel Carquinez, Casa De San Pablo, Hotel Don Castro and Hotel Casa Grande as the most likely names to express the new hotel.

The name of Hotel Carquinez suggested by Robert Wren was finally selected as the most suitable, the judges feeling that the new hotel must have a name distinctive, expressing the district and one that guests would remember. Realizing that the completion of the bridge across the Carquinez straits would draw many motorists to this section and that these motorists would become familiar with the name, the judge decided that the Hotel Carquinez would be the best name that could be selected for the new hotel.

Wren was awarded a prize of $25 for suggesting the name.

Deny Free Permit To Blind Peddler

PITTSBURG, July 16.—V. L. Negus, of Richmond, the half blind father of four children has been denied a free license to peddle cookies in this city by the city council. City Manager Roy Watson recommended that it would not be granted as Negus had been caught in the city peddling without a license once.

The applicant cited his large family and the loss of sight in one eye as the grounds for the request.

The request was denied by an unanimous vote.

U. S. Prohibition Head at Luncheon Which is "Moist"

(By Universal Service)
By ROBERT J. PREW

LONDON, July 16.—The outstanding feature of today's discussions on prohibition enforcement between the British government and General Lincoln C. Andrews, the "dry czar" of the United States, was an official luncheon to the American delegates at Claridge's Hotel where the rarest vintages were offered but declined by General Andrews who drank water only.

Other United States citizens, not connected with the prohibition mission, but invited to the luncheon table, partook with the British guests of the choicest Amontillado sherry, bringing out the deliciousness of the melon—the premier dish of the menu.

Afterwards they had Zeltlinger-Schlossberg of 1921 vintage, drunk with salmon and trout, while Noisette Bagneau, with pomme de terre and sauce fondante were washed down with Chateau Margaux of 1899.

The desert was frambois pompadour. Afterwards the guests sip-

Ironworkers to Meet Pittsburg Here on Sunday

The Ironworkers, pennant bound, will tangle with the fast and heavy Pittsburg Y. M. I. team on Sunday at the first street field, at 2:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made last night by Phil Jones.

The local team started its campaign in the second half of the series by defeating the Martinez team and they expect to do the Pittsburg team up brown.

After the luncheon, without the presence of Andrews, officials of the British government, with representatives of the Bahama government, investigated the system of granting clearance papers and ship registration, and drew up the agenda for a full-dress conference tomorrow.

The discussions are likely to continue for another fortnight.

OPERATOR OF RICHMOND'S NEW HOTEL

Charles B. Hamilton head of the Hamilton Hotel system, lessee of the New Hotel Carquinez, Richmond's community hotel.

Modern Woodmen Nine to Play Kelseyville

The Modern Woodmen ball team, which has won seven games out of nine so far this year, will take a journey to Kelseyville tomorrow to meet the home team. The team is made up of nine players, including some of the best semi-pro players in the State down the line by big scores.

The local team will leave Richmond early tomorrow morning to make the trip and they declare they will come back with the scalp of the Kelseyville team hanging on their belt.

After several days spent in Merced, H. P. Mason has returned to his home, 11 Sixth street.

CARQUINEZ IS OPERATED IN CHAIN OF TEN

Richmond welcomes Charles B. Hamilton as the lessee of its community hotel—the new Hotel Carquinez.

Known in two states as "Senator Hamilton," due to his incumbency in the senatorial branch of the Colorado legislature ten years ago, Hamilton is one of the foremost hotel operators in America.

In taking over the new Hotel Carquinez, Hamilton becomes the operator of ten of California's finest hotels in point of construction and equipment, a string that extends from Riverside to Marysville.

There are many reasons why Charlie Hamilton has succeeded in his chosen profession. He is specially adapted by nature to the hotel business. He is approachable and likable and makes friends. There are hundreds who would travel miles to stop at a Hamilton operated hotel.

Then too, "Senator" Hamilton understands the needs of the traveler. He has traveled a lot himself. He knows that the traveling public demands and must have the very highest class service in its hotels; that the hotel food must be the best; that courtesy must predominate. All these things Hamilton has incorporated in his hotels. And service, courtesy, splendid cuisine, cleanliness are outstanding features of the new Hotel Carquinez.

"Senator" Hamilton surrounds himself with lieutenants of the highest type. To Richmond he has brought James E. Strong who has served the Hamilton chain of hotels for a number of years. Strong is resident manager. His specialty has been in preparing the finest kind of table for Hamilton hotel guests. Those who have enjoyed meals at the Carquinez can testify as to the quality and appeal of the food served.

The best traditions of the Hamilton system will be maintained at Richmond's community hotel, the new Hotel Carquinez.

Other California hotels operated by Senator Hamilton are the Hotel Fresno, perhaps the "best bet" in the Hamilton chain; the Reynolds at Riverside and the new Hotel Marysville. Hotels under construction which will be operated by Hamilton are the community hotel in Alameda, and the Tracy Hotel at Tracy.

Before coming to California, Hamilton was associated with "Jimmie" Brooks, proprietor of the famous Oxford Hotel at Den-

F. A. REYNOLDS FIRST GUEST AT CARQUINEZ

But to get back to the story. Reynolds entering the doors of the hotel, across the soft carpeted floor he walked with a jaunty swagger, went to the desk, set his suitcase down and taking the new pen in hand—yes folks, the Carquinez Hotel has added a new feature to its program, it has new pens that possibly will not splutter and scratch, how the traveling salesman will miss 'em.

The clerk, with a business like nod, straightened the register, took a look at the name and gave the bell a tap. "Boy, show Mr. Reynolds to room 21144."

The bell boy picked up the grips, walked to the elevator or the "lift" as the English would say and sliding open the door allowed the first guest to enter.

Here is another feature the Carquinez Hotel worked in, much to the surprise of Reynolds, the elevator did not start up with a jerk, but instead glided up swiftly and smoothly.

Now where did we leave Reynolds, or yes, in the elevator. At the desired floor, the elevator stops and Reynolds is escorted to his room.

The bell boy, as taught in the bell-boy school, or do they go to school, then goes to the windows, fixes the window blind, and then steps back like an artist eyeing his master piece. With a nod of dismay the "button" adjusts the window a touch more north by east by north. Satisfied, his next duty is to adjust the water faucet.

One never feels at home unless the bell-boy turns on the water. He then turns and gives a subtle "ahem" but Reynolds is not noticing, instead he is viewing the well appointed fixtures of his room. Again the "ahem" a little louder. With a start Reynolds' hand reaches for his pocket while "button" surveys the scenery.

Tip in hand, we'll guarantee it was a big one, the boy left, glad for the practice on future guests.

ver, and it was while sharing the management of that hostelry that he was elected to the Colorado Senate. Hamilton drafted and sponsored the "bad check" bill for the protection of hotel keepers, making the writing of a check, prima facie evidence of intent to defraud. This law has been adopted in many other states.

Richmond welcomes Charles B. Hamilton and his resident manager, James E. Strong.

Golden Wedding of Pioneers Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Antone Peters celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Thursday evening at their home with a dinner party.

The couple were married in San Pablo fifty years ago and have resided in this community ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter's children, grand children and great grand children were present at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Pickford have returned from their honeymoon spent in the north. They are at home to their friends at 662 Nineteenth street.

NEW SOVIET LABOR CODE AIDS EMPLOYER

(By Universal Service)
By LAURA PATRICK
MOSCOW, July 16.—The pendulum long ago was begun to swing the other way, and now each change in the Soviet Russian labor code shows more concessions for the employer and less favoritism for the employee.

A new modification of the labor code will come up for consideration at the next session of the central executive committee which swings nearer than ever that of other countries.

If this is passed then any man unfitted for his job may be discharged, which is perhaps the biggest innovation the new code will bring. Heretofore an unqualified worker could not be dismissed without permission from the government.

Also if the enterprise must suspend work for a slack period then the employer need not continue to pay the laborer the wages he has been getting, as has previously been the case, "but only the amount fitting for the sort of work he has been doing."

This clause will probably be capable of various interpretations. But most striking is the retreat from the stand that the Soviet worker must be paid according to an arbitrary scale, regardless of qualifications.

Even in some cases during a lay-off period the worker will not get any wages at all.

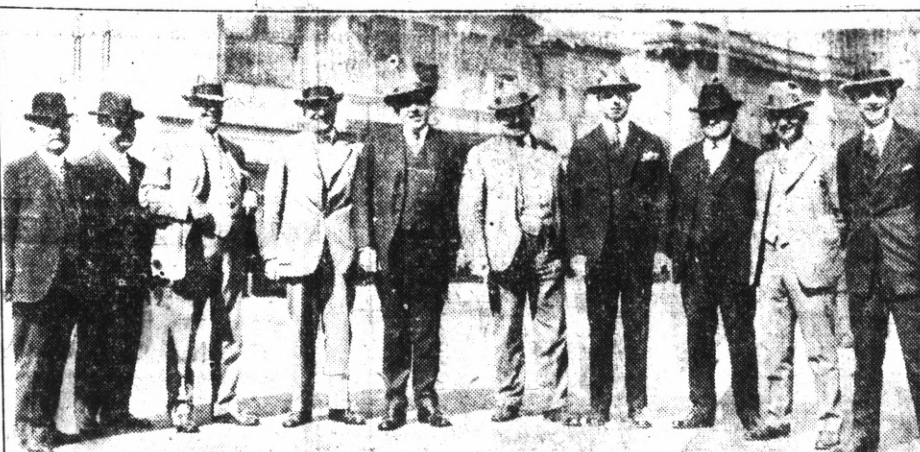

The eight hour day also comes in for some changes. During a rush season the worker may put in more than eight hours daily, but must not average more than 192 hours a month.

Women hereafter will be permitted to do night work. They may also work in mines.

The age limit for minors in industry will be moved down a

Breaking Ground For Carquinez

Scenes at the ground breaking exercises held on October 14, for Richmond's Community hotel. Some of the speakers (Left to Right) Sheriff R. R. Veale, Henry A. Johnston, former president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce; J. F. Brooks, general manager of the Standard Oil Company; E. C. Lyon, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Harvey M. Toy, chairman, State Highway Commission; Charles P. Hamilton, lessee of the hotel; C. A. Young, president of the California Hotel Men's Association; E. M. Downer, president of the Richmond Hotel Company; W. W. Scott, former mayor; and C. C. Chamberlain, president of the California Greeters' Association. (Below) E. M. Downer at the controls of the steam shovel taking out the first shovel full of dirt in the excavation for the foundation of the hotel.

HOTEL WAS STARTED ON OCTOBER 14

With city officials from the surrounding cities and representative hotel men of the state in attendance, ground breaking exercises were held on Wednesday noon, October 14 where the New Hotel Carquinez now stands.

From the time the Richmond Union high school band opened the exercises with a snappy march until E. M. Downer brought them to a close by taking up the first shovel full of dirt, a spirit of optimism and cooperation was manifested.

H. A. Johnston, then president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, acted as chairman during the exercises.

Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the State Highway Commission was the principal speaker of the day and he forecast an era of prosperity not only for the new hotel but for the city of Richmond. He told the audience that the hotel would attract many to this city, who under ordinary conditions, without the hotel, would find no incentive to remain over night.

Charles B. Hamilton, lessee of the hotel complimented the hotel company and its directors upon the clean cut campaign and plans which they had carried to a successful conclusion. He stated that he had kept an eagle eye on all transactions regarding the new hotel and that not a single dollar had been wasted or misappropriated.

Mayor Frank D. Stringham of Berkeley; E. C. Lyons, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; City Manager John N. Eddy, of Berkeley; F. A. Young, president of the California Hotelmen's association and W. C. Chamberlain, president of the Greeters of California, were among the out of town visitors who attended the ceremony.

They were unanimous in their praise of those backing the hotel and the six hundred stock holders, who had made the hotel a successful venture.

Former Mayor W. W. Scott was the first speaker on the program and he welcomed the visitors to Richmond and declared the hotel project to be one of the most forward steps which had been taken by Richmond for some time.

J. F. Brooks, manager of the California refineries of the Standard Oil company extended his congratulations to the people of this community in their progressive move for the new hotel.

James Plachek, architect who drew the plans for the building was introduced at the ceremony. J. F. Barrett, of Barrett and Hill, the contractors who constructed the hotel pointed out that the structure is absolutely fireproof, being built of reinforced concrete and metal lath with facing for the doors and windows the only wood in the structure.

John Gierston, who installed the heating system was introduced. Downer concluded the exercises when he scooped up the first shovel of ground and dumped it into a truck with the big steam shovel that was employed on the job.

Following the exercises a luncheon was served at the Berkeley Country club. During the luncheon, Charles B. Hamilton, acting as spokesman, on behalf of the Executive Committee of the Hotel Drive presented Johnston with a silver loving cup, in appreciation of his untiring efforts during the hotel campaign.

Schneider Has Modern Shop in Hotel Building

One of the best equipped and designed tailor shops in the Eastbay district is A. L. Schneider's, a new establishment in the Hotel Carquinez. The entire store including the workshop has outside exposure eliminating the necessity for other means of lighting.

Schneider has been located in Richmond during the past ten years and his shop has been growing with Richmond. Growth of the business necessitated moving to larger quarters. After inspecting several locations, Schneider decided to locate in the new hotel building. The shelves of the display room are stocked with the finest of woollens of imported and domestic manufacture. Included among his woolsens is the famous Ellis and Martin brand of international reputation. Tweeds of Scotch and Irish make ranging in colors from solid to mixtures are but a part of his stock. He features the latest styles in suits which are made in his daylight shop to the rear of the display room.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Thole and their children, Virginia, Rovine, Ellen and Marshall returned to their home, 320 Twenty-second street yesterday from a two weeks vacation spent in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Carquinez Is Most Modern In All Of Its Departments

At night both of these rooms are flooded with light from handsome wrought iron chandeliers matching those in the lounge. The draperies in these rooms also carry out the same scheme of decoration as those in the lounge. A beautiful maple floor especially designed for dancing is found in both rooms.

Various sized tables seating from two to twelve persons are scattered throughout the rooms. The chairs are of the imported bent wood type with a cane seat. Half of these are of the conventional dining room type and the other half of the large armchair type. The linens of the dining room are handsomely embroidered in blue with "Hotel Carquinez." The silverware is partially of Gorham manufacture and the remainder of Community plate with a handsome design and all stamped with the name "Hotel Carquinez."

The chinaware is of the American vitrified type with a special border design adopted by the Hamilton Chain of Hotels. The glassware is of the "no nick" design.

MODERN KITCHEN

Quoting one of the leading hotel publications of the Pacific Coast the kitchen is stated to "contain every conceivable piece of late land up to date equipment." This includes Majestic and Garland gas ranges, a Crescent dish washing machine, all aluminum pots and pans and the Frigidaire means of mechanical refrigeration.

The kitchen is designed to be as nearly 100 percent sanitary as is possible.

The Coffee Shoppe which has proven so popular with Richmondites is equipped with a low counter of birch mahogany set on white enameled iron supports. Along this counter are thirteen (and Hamilton tells us this with a feeling of pride for he is not superstitious) wonderfully comfortable mahogany arm chairs on pedestals.

Ranged along the wall are half a dozen tables and chairs for those who prefer service at the table instead of the counter. This room is designed for quick service at low prices and the volume of business it has already shown indicates that Richmondites have been quick to discover it.

KITCHEN "TIES IN"

The kitchen "ties in" admirably with all three of the rooms in which food is served. The Coffee Shoppe is open at all hours of the day while the main dining room is open all day with the exception of a short interval between breakfast and lunch and between lunch and dinner. Contrary to the expectations of those who do not know the prices charged in the main dining room are not more than any other good eating place in Richmond. Likewise with the prices in the coffee shop.

ELEVATOR

After our inspection of the coffee shop we return to the lounge and inspect the elevator, which runs from the basement and main floor to the four sleeping floors. It is of the automatic type and has a capacity of twelve persons at one time. The elevator cage is steel finished in mahogany with a floor in a handsome design of elevator tiling. The steel and wire glass, and frames of each opening are of a special design. The elevator is almost entirely noiseless.

SLEEPING FLOORS

Four sleeping floors each handsomely carpeted and each containing nineteen light and airy guest rooms are the next to attract our attention. Ample linen rooms, storage closets and public baths and lavatories for ladies and gentlemen.

BATHS

A private bath fully tiled is to be found between each two rooms and can be locked off for the use of either of the rooms or left for the use of both rooms if desired.

The bath rooms are provided with heavy porcelain built in bath tubs with white floors and wainscoting. The latest improved toilet fixtures have been installed. Over the lavatory has been constructed a mirror doored cabinet. The plumbing and all of the little conveniences that are now found in the latest type of bath room are fully represented in every bathroom. Each bathroom has an outside window.

Everyone of the bedrooms is an outside room without a dark room in the entire building. The rooms are handsomely carpeted with various designs of Axminster carpets heavily padded.

The beds are of steel walnut finish and are equipped with luxuriant springs and mattresses. The pillows are of generous size and are remarkably resilient.

BEDS

The fact that the bed is the most important piece of furniture in the bedroom if not the entire hotel has not been lost sight of by the boards of directors of the hotel company and the Hamilton chain as operators. The sheets, pillow cases, counterpanes, blankets, dresser scarfs, doilies, hand bath towels and even the bath mats are all of standard make and design of generous size and have a handsome embroidered design of blue letters "Hotel Carquinez." All of the furniture is of walnut. The dressers are made in California. The dresser mirror is hung above the dresser with silk cords.

WRITING DESK

The writing desk in each room is a handsome one and completely equipped. The easy chair has a perforated cane back and a double upholstered seat in mohair. The straight chair in each room has a full covered leather seat. The baggage rests are of a special design and of the type that can be used as an additional chair if necessary. The glassware and crockery is of the latest design. Each room is provided with a high powered center light in the ceiling covered by a white globe which diffuses the light in a pleasing manner. An additional wrought iron side wall fixture and frosted bulb light is also installed.

Over each lavatory and mirror front cabinet is another light especially designed as a shaving light. A double base plug is provided for additional reading lamps if desired.

A clothes closet of a large size is provided with a rod for hanging clothes hangers. Ample clothes hooks and shelf capacity is provided in these closets which open off from each room.

TELEPHONE

Each room is provided with a telephone connected with twenty-four hour service through the switchboard in the office of the hotel and guests may talk to others rooms or locally in Richmond or to any point in the United States if desired.

In addition to the Richmond telephone directory, manager Geo. R. Calvert of the telephone company has provided each room with an Oakland and San Francisco telephone directory.

BASEMENT

In the basement is to be found the baggage store room for heavy luggage of the patrons of the hotel. Lockers and dressing rooms for the employees and the general storeroom for the hotel supplies is also contained in the full cement high ceilinged basement. The main electric switch board and the elevator switch are located in the basement.

The heating and hot water equipment is situated in the basement. Both of these plants are oil burning and of the most modern type. The boilers are of the low pressure type and are designed to heat the entire building in a short time as well as furnish hot water to all the rooms at the minimum expense.

It is a noteworthy fact that the entire building, its arrangement and equipment have been carefully studied out by all concerned taking into consideration the important points of cost, the minimum of depreciation and economy of operation.

Carquinez Will Be Operated in Hamilton Chain

The traditions of the Hamilton system of chain hotels will be employed at their newest addition, the Hotel Carquinez. Charles E. Hamilton, president of the system, which operates hotels throughout California has selected a management that will operate the hotel along the same lines for which the chain has become famous.

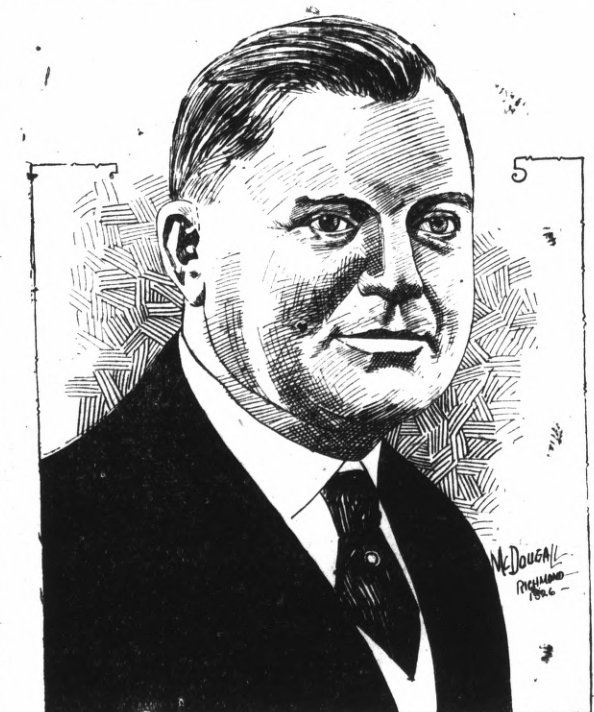

James Strong, who will manage the Hotel Carquinez, has had years of experience in managing hotels. He has selected a staff that will cooperate with him in making the new hostelry famous through the state for its appointments, service and cuisine.

Other hotels operated by the Hamilton system include the Hotel Marysville, at Marysville; Hotel Reynolds, at Riverside; and the associated Hotel Occidental and Occidental Annex at Santa Rosa. Hotels under construction which will be operated as a part of the chain include the Hotel Tracy, at Tracy; Hotel Alameda, at Alameda; and the Hotel Flagstaff, at Flagstaff, Arizona.

Word has been received from the Misses Sybil and Phyllis Hulett and Margaret Creely that they are having a splendid time on their vacation in Santa Cruz.

President of Hotel Company

When plans for the Richmond Community Hotel were in the making, sponsors of the movement looked around for the proper man to head the hotel company. After a careful study of the available men in this city to head the company E. M. Downer, president of the Mechanics Bank was named to the post.

Soviet Official Buys 2 Tons Of Fine Raiment

By LAURA PATRICK
(By Universal Service)

MOSCOW, July 16.—Two tons of fine raiment accompanied one of the responsible Soviet Oil Trust officials when he returned from an extended trip to Western Europe.

Pained perplexity permeates the inquiry made in the government press as to where the official got the money to buy such a stack of clothes when all the Soviet Union is in the throes of a rigorous financial crisis, and the leaders are preaching economy from the housetops.

No names were mentioned. The proletarian official with the two ton wardrobe remains unheard of by name to the public. But the articles of finery he brought along for the beautification of himself and his wife are carefully enumerated.

Here are some of the things that monopolized the whole custom's house and caused the force to work overtime, as well as brought tears of envy to the eyes of those who can't get permission to go abroad for a similar buying spree:

Ninety-six suits of underwear; 6 overcoats; 4 suits of clothes; 8 pairs of trousers; 2 tailored suits for women; 33 dresses; 3 sweaters; 4 uncut pieces of overcoat material; 1 fur piece; 18 pairs of shoes; 5 hats; 60 pairs of stockings; 7 pairs of gloves; 12 tablecloths; 15 sheets; 30 towels; and 55 napkins.

Besides these there were bathing suits, pajamas, raincoats, collars, shirts, bathrobes, corsets, purses, handkerchiefs, laces, velvets and mirrors.

Even a bicycle was included in the list, though it scarcely belongs in the wardrobe category. Moralizing upon the terror and depression which the sight of so many clothes had upon the hard-working proletariat in the custom's house, "Pravda" reminds that Henry Ford has only one pair of overshoes, and when they leak he sends them to the nearest shoemaker to be patched up. Even in Czarist Russia, the famous manufacturer Morosoff used to drink cheap tea rather than pay the high price for the best grade of Ceylon the writer points out. "Now, that's economy!" he exclaims.

Concluding indignantly the writer asks: "What salary is this man getting that he can allow himself such luxuries in our economizing country?"

Men Fight Flames On Mt. Tamalpais

Sweeping more than 200 acres of brush and redwood timber in the uninhabited region between Mount Tamalpais and Bolinas, the largest forest fire in Marin county since 1923 was burning last night although a force of 1000 men were furiously fighting the flames. During Thursday night the blaze illuminated the district between Iverness and Stinson beach and it was feared for a while that the beach town and the Radio Corporation America wireless station was endangered.

Raised Hulk of S-51 Which Gave Up Bodies Of 18 of Crew of 33 Who Perished In Wreck

This photograph shows the ripped plates of the S-51 which was rammed and sunk off Block Island by the City of Rome last September. Thirty-three of the 36 men on board lost their lives, but only 18 bodies were recovered when the submarine was finally raised above the surface in dry-dock in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Eight bodies were recovered last fall and it seems certain that the others of her crew were washed from the deck the night of the disaster.

WOMAN HELD BY KIDNAPERS FOR 15 DAYS

(By Universal Service)
KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 16.—The noise of an automobile's brakes; a thud; the roar of the motor as the machine sped away; then muffled cries for help....

Attendants in a gasoline station near Keno, on the Klamath Falls-Ashland highway, tumbled out of their cots early this morning to find in the roadway the bound and gagged figure of a woman, clad only in her under-clothing.

She was Mrs. Clyde Gazeley of Myrtle Creek, estranged wife of an Oregon stockman. Since July 1 she had been missing from her mother's home at Myrtle Creek, and to explain her absence she poured today into the ears of Assistant District Attorney A. W. Schupp as amazing a tale of kidnapping and captivity as has ever been heard here.

And behind it lies the deep mystery of an utter lack of apparent motive!

"I believe her story," said Schupp after questioning her this afternoon for two hours, "and we shall start search at once for her kidnappers and captors."

The searchers will also hunt for the woman's 18-month-old daughter, also kidnapped, and of whom the mother has seen nothing since her disappearance.

Here is Mrs. Gazeley's tale, as (Continued on Page 16)

Caillaux Refused Control of Franc By French Chamber

(By Universal Service)
PARIS, July 16.—Joseph Caillaux, the finance minister who is endeavoring to take measures to appreciate the exchange value of the franc, suffered a severe setback tonight when the finance commission of the Chamber of Deputies refused his demand that he be given absolute control of the country's finances.

By a vote of 14 to 10, the commission rejected M. Caillaux's proposal.

Filipino Legislature Asks Col. Thompson To Request Independence For Islands

(By Universal Service)
MANILA, July 16.—Col. Carmi A. Thompson, personal representative of President Coolidge who is here to investigate the political and economic situation, was enthusiastically received at the opening of the Filipino legislature here today.

The first act of the legislature was to adopt a resolution urging the country's independence from the United States. Col. Thompson was requested to transmit the resolution to President Coolidge.

Governor General Leonard Wood was received formally and silently when he appeared and delivered his annual message to the legislature. The governor left the room amid silence and did not greet Col. Thompson who sat in the invited guest section on the floor of the legislature. Immediately upon the departure of General Wood from the chamber, President Manuel Quezon escorted Col. Thompson to the chair left vacant by General Wood.

Addressing the legislature, Col. Thompson said that he came as the personal representative of President Coolidge "without bias or prejudice and without any intention to listen and learn."

"I am here," said Col. Thompson, "to secure a better administration of affairs," continuing, he said:

"The United States has solemnly developed the islands for the commercial benefit of the Filipino people so that they can compete with the great powers of the world. Future commercial development is in the Pacific. Your geographical position will make you the center of this development. Your people have made rapid strides during the past 28 years."

"The surface of your natural resources have hardly been scratched. These islands have unlimited wealth and potential commercial possibilities. This natural wealth must be developed for the benefit of the people of the islands. Under no circumstances must they be exploited to satisfy great ambition. The eyes of all the world is upon you."

In his annual message, General Wood made numerous recommendations most of which have been made in previous years. None, however, have been acted upon favorably by past legislatures.

Wood's secretary read the annual message for the first time since the governor took office. It referred to Col. Thompson's visit as being "purely a survey of economic conditions."

"Interest in rubber production," the message stated, "has increased very generally during the past year. The country generally is more prosperous and the health and public order good.

"Greater development of rubber in the Philippines will facilitate very greatly the economic development of the islands."

A marked increase in the value of the crops was noted in 1925, the message stated.

The governor general recommended woman suffrage and asked for the cooperation of the legislature and other Filipino officials. Commenting upon the arrival of Col. Thompson, Governor Wood in his message said:

"There is another matter which I desire to invite your special attention. The president of the United States, deeply interested in the welfare and progress of the Filipino people, has sent his personal representative, Col. Carmi Thompson to make a survey of economic conditions. The task is a difficult one and I bespeak for him your courtesy and consideration."

Manuel Quezon, political leader, voiced a strong appeal for independence of the Philippines. He said:

"The Filipino people, now more than ever, aspire to their freedom, which to them is a paramount consideration in their relations with the United States." Quezon told the legislature which was also addressed by Carmi A. Thompson, President Coolidge's special representative to the islands.

"Col. Thompson's appointment, we may all assume was made by the president primarily in the interest of the Philippines and to promote their welfare," continued Quezon. "For we have been repeatedly assured by the government of the United States that America holds sovereignty over our country as a trustee of its interests and not to exploit them; but to help us manage our affairs, develop our resources for the benefit of our own people until such time as we are able to do it for ourselves as a free and independent people. We express the hope that policy has not been abandoned."

Radio Messages

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 16.—"If the information we received this morning develops as we think it will, the solution of the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnapping mystery will be in our hands by the time the grand jury meets next Tuesday."

This was the only comment made by Deputy District Attorney Joe Ryan, when he emerged from a long conference with Chief Investigator Charles Reimer, today.

At this conference, it is reported, plans were made to subpoena two new witnesses. These witnesses, according to general belief, will testify as to a mysterious $1000 check which is said to have changed hands in the early stages of the now famous mystery.

At the same time, H. D. Hallenbeck, Yuma rancher, whose name has been linked with the story, declared that Kenneth Ormiston, missing radio operator, is "not far from Los Angeles" and that he could be produced by Tuesday.

SESSION OF LIONS GETS EARLY START

Due to the arrival of hundreds of guests who have already arrived in San Francisco for the district and international conventions of the Lions clubs to be held there beginning Monday, the entertainment committee has decided to begin the program of entertainment tomorrow instead of Monday as originally scheduled. For the benefit of the visitors, there will be several automobile tours of the city on Sunday.

San Francisco is making arrangements to entertain 10,000 delegates and guests, the bulk of which will arrive Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. A caravan of 808 machines will arrive tomorrow from Los Angeles and the district south of the Tehachapi. They will be met in San Jose by a delegation from San Francisco and registration will commence there to expedite registration for the convention.

FOUR INJURED WHEN TRUCK HITS AUTO

Injuries that may prove fatal were received by John Mangle of this city when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Key System truck at Market street and San Pablo avenues, Oakland, yesterday. Three others riding with Mangle were seriously injured. Mrs. Leona Lewis, 235 Third street, received cuts and bruises; possible internal injuries were received by Mrs. Ruth Lewis, 26, Northwest avenue and David Lewis, 3 year old son of Mrs. Ruth Lewis received a crushed foot.

The accident occurred as Mangle was driving into San Pablo avenue from Market street. His machine was struck by a Key truck driven by V. Jordan, Oakland, and overturned.

The injured were taken to the Providence hospital.

Lettuce Shipments Increase in U. S.

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—These are "salad days" for the American people.

Lettuce shipments last season were six times those in 1916, and valued at $20,000,000, the Department of Agriculture announced today. Only three other vegetables—potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes—exceeded lettuce in market value.

"Apparently a real change in American diet, especially among city consumers, is responsible for the growing importance of this leading salad crop," said the department.

California leads in volume of lettuce production, followed by New York and Florida.

E. C. Harris, 150 Perry street Oakland, reported to the local police that his car was stolen early yesterday morning. He declared he had the car parked on Fifteenth street between Macdonald and Bissell avenues.

RATE INCREASE IS DENIED TO WESTERN R. R.

Western Lines are Denied Fifteen Per Cent Increase by the Interstate Commission

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—In a sweeping and far-reaching decision the Interstate Commerce Commission today rejected the demand of Western railroads for market increases of five to twenty percent. In freight rates throughout the area from Chicago and the Mississippi river west to the Pacific Coast.

These increases would have added at least $100,000,000 to the yearly freight bills of farmers, livestock raisers and business interests, it was estimated.

"No financial emergency exists," the commission found.

Refusal of the commission to accept the Hoch-Smith resolution as a "mandate" for market increases indicated that it will fail to order any wholesale cuts, either in the Western area or in the east and south.

This resolution ordered a nationwide investigation of freight rates, called upon the commission, in adjusting them, to give all the weight legally possible to "conditions which at any given time prevail in our several industries."

Western interests fought for acceptance of the resolution as a congressional fiat requiring that all rate adjustments be downward.

Wolfgang to Go To Gallows on September 10

(By Universal Service)
SAN RAFAEL, July 16.—Isaac Wolfgang will be hanged at San Quentin prison September 10, when Frank J. Smith received the death warrant today signed by Superior Judge Victor McLucas of Los Angeles.

Wolfgang has twice faced the noose but each time was saved when his execution was halted by a new judicial process. He was convicted of the killing of a Los Angeles policeman who attempted to arrest him for stealing a bottle of milk.

Move Reported To Free Forbes From Fed. Prison

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Friends of Colonel Charles E. Forbes, former director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, now serving a two-year term in Federal prison for conspiracy to defraud the government in building hospitals for disabled soldiers, are making a determined effort to secure a pardon for him, it was learned today.

Politicians, members of congress and government officials are being flooded with letters urging them to intervene in behalf of Forbes.

A deaf ear has been turned to the requests so far, it was learned.

One lawyer, engaged by Forbes wrote to Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, present director of the Veterans' Bureau, asking that Hines endorse the movement. He refused.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sanders and their family have moved from their home 348 South Fourth street to 1227 Florida.

Mrs. J. A. Hansen and daughter Miss Maude Gracie are expected to return to their home, 27 Sixth street this week-end from Denver where they were visiting friends.

GLINEBURG ENTERS RACE FOR SHERIFF

GEORGE P. GLINEBURG

In this issue of the RECORD-HERALD appears the political announcement of George P. Glineburg of Richmond for the office of sheriff. His nomination petitions were filed at Martinez late yesterday afternoon.

Glineburg entered the contest for sheriff, after much consideration and thought, and after being importuned by people in all parts of the country. His petitions were circulated in Richmond, San Pablo, Pittsburg, Antioch and Brentwood.

Broken Power Line Causes Heavy Loss of Lumber in Fire Early Last Night

BAY POINT, Cal., July 16.—A broken power wire caused a fire to break out in the yards of the Coos Bay Lumber company here late today and burned for five hours before being brought under control.

Approximately 15,000,000 feet of lumber was destroyed at a loss estimated at $150,000.

Flames shooting more than 100 feet into the air were visible for miles in Contra Costa and Solano counties.

Fire apparatus from Richmond was requested and Fire Chief W. P. Cooper dispatched Engine No. 2 to the scene to assist the fire departments from Martinez, Pittsburg and the fire boat Leslie from Mare Island.

More than forty acres of the company's 300-acre area were in flames which the equipment of the local fire department was unable to cope with. Calls for aid were sent out to neighboring cities. The fire started in the northeast section of the lumber yard and burned through the heavy stacked lumber. For a time it was feared that the conflagration would sweep upon the town but the augmented fire department succeeded in preventing the spread of the flames.

A force of 250 employees and volunteers was recruited to fight the blaze.

Sacramento Fetes National Editors

SACRAMENTO, July 16.—Sacramento city officials were today guests to members of the National Editorial association, en route to their homes from their annual convention in Los Angeles. Following a tour of the Lake Tahoe section and a visit to Bert Hart's Inn at Grass Valley the members will be taken on a trip to Lassen Volcanic National park.

Must Try Ferry Fights in S. F.

Unless fights occur within one-half mile of the Oakland mole, all fights occurring on Oakland-San Francisco ferry boats must be tried in San Francisco courts, according to a ruling of Police Judge E. J. Tyrell, of Oakland yesterday. Judge Tyrell dismissed charges of assault and battery brought against Max Rinsler, of Oakland, by William Ritter, Jr., of San Francisco. A dispute arose on a ferry between the two drivers of automobiles ending in a fight. Judge Tyrell held that he had no jurisdiction.

Woman Held
By Kidnappers
For 15 Days

told to Schupp:
On the night of July 1, at about 10:30 o'clock, I was awakened by a noise outside my mother's home. I stepped outside to investigate. A momentary glimpse of two men, and then a sack was pulled over my head and I was thrown into an automobile.

"Then we rode for hours. After many miles, we left the paved road, and started a long climb. Authorities believe, from her description, that this was the Green Springs hill road.

Many miles after we reached the summit, I was carried out of the machine and for about 250 yards, as near as I can judge, and was thrown on a bunk in a cabin.

There I have been held prisoner until early this morning. Each morning the two men would release my bonds, after which a woman dressed in khaki would come in and feed me. My food was mostly sandwiches. At nights the two men would again tie me up. There were boards over the windows, and the room was always in darkness. But I felt sure it was deep in the woods, for the only sounds I heard were the songs of birds.

I was never molested in any way. My treatment was always as kind as possible under the circumstances. But my captors never spoke to me. I only heard three words from them—that was when the woman whispered, 'I don't know' when I once asked her what they were going to do with me, and why I was held there.

This morning, long before dawn, I was awakened. They gave me no time to add my outer clothing to the underclothing and stockings in which I was sleeping, but bound and gagged me and bundled me into a car again. Then we drove for a long time, and I was finally thrown from the car where I was found.

The woman could assign no motive for her treatment. She said that she had separated from her husband last May 19, and had been making her home since then with her mother.

Relatives of the woman were called from Myrtle Creek this morning, following her finding. They took her to their home. Mrs. Gazeley was little the worse for her experiences—her wrists were slightly chafed from the bonds she had worn, and her skin was pale from confinement in the dark cabin room.

Mrs. A. P. McKenna and daughter, Lois, 1719 Bissell avenue are visiting relatives in Saratoga Springs.

Northern California Athletic Club Girls Training At Philadelphia For Relay a. National Title MeetGovernor Of New York Guest Of President Coolidge At Camp In The Adirondacks

By JOHN T. LAMBERT

(By Universal Service)

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., July 16.—President Coolidge and Governor Al Smith met here today in an isolated mountain retreat, far from peering eyes.

Governor Smith offered President Coolidge the compliments of the state and expressed the hope that his stay here will be pleasant and beneficial.

President Coolidge, with quiet dignity, accorded Governor Smith the honor which the great state of New York commands.

He sent his own private car to bring the governor and Mrs. Smith from Paul Smith's hotel to White Pines Camp, the summer White House, for luncheon. He dispatched his naval aide, Captain Wilson Brown, Jr., commander of the Mayflower, to attend their convenience.

Governor and Mrs. Smith were with the Coolidges about two hours, including their lake ride. The president sent them back to their hotel in his limousine. Governor Smith's son, Young Al, his two daughters and the other members of the governor's party, then motored over to White Pine Camp to pay their respects to the presidential couple.

The President was the first to greet Governor and Mrs. Smith. He presented them to Mrs. Coolidge, showed them the living and sleeping cabins on the eminence overlooking Lake Osgood and the four, without further ceremony, entered the dining cabin for their official luncheon.

The Smiths know now that the President is a dexterous fisherman, brook trout, taken by the President from the William Rockefeller estate, thirteen miles distant, was the base of this luncheon.

President Coolidge and Governor Smith presented an interesting contrast. The President is taller, more serious lines mark his face. The Governor, affable and ready for a jesting joust with anyone, was bubbling with good spirits from the moment he arrived at Paul Smith's hotel this morning with a numerous entourage.

"What you going to wear for the luncheon, Al?" came a voice from the crowd, as he stepped from his auto in a dust covered blue serge.

"Can't call on the Pres. in these togs," he yelled back.

"You look alright," shouted an admirer.

"Wait till I get dolled up," replied the Governor. "You won't know me when I come out."

"Evening dress?" asked another.

"A golf suit is evening dress up here," he responded.

To a cameraman, who encouraged the Governor to "smile this way" he shouted:

"I'm saving up the smiles for later."

The Governor's admirers in the crowd got a laugh from what they regarded as this sally at the expense of President.

The Governor, "togged out" as he said, in a gray business suit, and Mrs. Smith, charming in a silk dress of flowered pattern, stepped from their rooms two hours later and were whisked away to White Pines camp, attended by the State Motor Patrol which had honked his way here this morning from Elizabethtown, N. Y.

Just what passed between the President and the Governor at the luncheon table is at this moment unrecovered. Smith is an abundant story teller. The President is one of the most observant of men, and, although few know it, can himself spin unique stories of deep wit on occasion. Both have been governors, with a vast amount of executive experience. The President's days as governor of Massachusetts were among his happiest, and it is an odds-on bet that they swapped experiences with great profit to Governor

Smith.

Mrs. Coolidge, the most popular of White House matrons and Mrs. Smith doubtless got along famously. Mrs. Coolidge has a charming grace. Mrs. Smith, too, is accounted a very sweet lady.

Governor and Mrs. Smith, accompanied by a party of relatives and friends, expect to remain here until Monday. The Governor will golf at every opportunity.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith Jr., the Governor's daughters, Mrs. John A. Warner and Miss Katherine Smith; Major John A. Warner, who is superintendent of state police; Morris Bloch, Democratic leader of the assembly, and Mrs. Bloch; William A. Humphrey of Albany, an old friend, and Dr. and Mrs. Leonard of Saratoga Springs. Dr. Leonard is commissioner of public safety of Saratoga Springs.

The lunch over, President and Mrs. Coolidge and Governor and Mrs. Smith boarded the speed boat and sailed for half an hour on Osgood lake.

"He pointed to the spot where he said he caught his first bass," said Governor Smith, later. "There are fish there, all right. I saw one jump from the water.

"I told him he could show me things here, as I have never fished from Lake Osgood. But I told him I could show him something if we were on Lake George where I know the best spots."

Smith said they had "a typical Friday lunch—Adirondack fish that he said he caught."

It was the first time the Governor had met the President ex-corpor had met the president ex-at the White House when the President summoned the governors to discuss prohibition enforcement. He called in at the New Willard in Washington to pay his respects a few days after President Harding had died, and he then met Mrs. Coolidge but the President was busily engaged at the White House. Today's visit made a distinct impression.

"We had a lovely visit, an enjoyable visit," said Governor Smith. "Mrs. Coolidge is a delightful lady."

"We didn't embarrass the ladies by talking politics. And we didn't tell any funny stories. We talked only facts."

HELYS RETURN FROM VACATION

Dr. and Mrs. St. John Hely and Mrs. S. J. Perkins sister of Mrs. Hely returned yesterday from a vacation trip spent in the Yosemite Valley.

H. W. Sheaffer, of Oakland will address the members of the Everyman's bible class on Sunday morning at the Odd Fellows hall, according to an announcement made last night by L. A. Widner, president of the class. Every member of the class is urged to be in attendance, by the president. The class will start at 9:45.

CONTRA COSTA TEMPLE LAYS PICNIC PLANS

Arrangements to attend the picnic given at East Shore Park on Sunday, July 25 were made by the Contra Costa Temple of Pythian Sisters last night at the Pythian Castle.

It was announced that the feature of the picnic will be a baseball game between the Pythian Sisters of the San Francisco lodges and the Berkeley and Richmond lodges. Over 200 gate prizes will be given for this event.

A public whist party is being planned for the near future and Mrs. Myrtle Corliss, assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Julerat, Mrs. Audrey Delaney, Mrs. Clothilda Stusilo Hatfield and Josephine Boralis will be in charge of the event. Most Excellent Chief Eva Taylor of Oakland was a visitor at this session which was presided over by Mrs. Anna Bowyer.

GOLDEN RULE CLUB ENJOYS SOCIAL HOUR

A social hour was enjoyed by the members of the Golden Rule club yesterday. Refreshments were prepared by the girls and at table a regular business session was held. Alberta Roberts and Marie Strook were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the meeting August 30 when the club will entertain mothers and prospective members.

The sand box which is to be used in Sunday school work on July 25 along with their missionary program was presented over by Mrs. M. H. Greenlee. Envelopes for this work were completed and will be distributed next Sunday. The following Sunday the offerings will be collected.

The members are enthusiastic about the work accomplished during the vacation period and are considering the feasibility of continuing the club throughout the year.

Mrs. Budlong Acting as Own Lawyer in Husband's Sensational Suit for Divorce in Newport Court

After the case had been on trial for several days in the Superior Court in Newport, R. I. Mrs. Milton J. Budlong dispensed with the services of her counsel. For several days she grided her tongue in cross-examination and Mrs. Catherine Frederick, her while friend, followed him on the stand. Her cross-examination resolved itself into a duel of women's wits. Budlong sued on the ground of cruelty. He charged that she was constantly demanding money to further her high ideals and social ambitions.

Portrait Of Woodrow Wilson Brings Highest Price During Auction Of Christie Paintings

(By Universal Service)
BY H. H. STANBURY
(By Universal Service)
LONDON, July 16.—Woodrow Wilson still lives in the minds of his countrymen.
His portrait, painted by the celebrated artist, Sir William Orpen, brought the highest price at Christie's auction today of the collection of thirty six pictures of war time celebrities from the gallery of Sir James Dunn.
After lively bidding, $13,000 was offered by an unnamed American and his bid was accepted.
General John Pershing's portrait commanded the next highest price, $2,500. That of Colonel Edward M. House, president Wilson's intimate friend and advisor, sold for $100 lower.

All of these pictures went to Americans.
A laughing picture of former prime minister David Lloyd George sold for $2,400. Georges Clemenceau, former Premier of France, $2,000; Lord Reading $1,900.
A portrait of Field Marshall Sir Henry Wilson, who once called Orpen, "A Nasty Little Wasp," went for $1,900.
A depiction of Balfour's head, described as "the most perfect I've encountered" brought $1,000.
The total realized from the sale was $67,500.
George Bernard Shaw, with his ever young figure and his white beard, watched the sale unobserved until the auctioneer called attention to his presence.
Then Shaw departed hurriedly.

Another Tube and 2 Bridges Wanted By Oakland C. C.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce formally endorsed plans for a second estuary tube and two new bridges over High street and Fruitvale avenue between Oakland and Alameda.

The action of the Oakland body became known through a letter sent by W. L. Miller secretary manager of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to Harley Norris, secretary manager of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce.

According to those who are studying the traffic problem between the two cities the completion of the tube now under construction will not solve the transportation problem between the two cities.

ROME, July 16.—Pope Pius XI, on the recommendation of John Cardinal Bonzano, papal legate to the recent Eucharistic congress in Chicago, will elevate fourteen priests to the rank of Monsignor for their work in making the congress a success.
A score of laymen will be made Knights of St. Gregory for their efforts.

RICHMOND CAMP W. O. W. WILL VISIT OAKLAND

The Richmond camp of Woodmen of the World will visit the Oakland Camp on July 25, according to an announcement made last night. The visit will be a return one as the Oakland Camp was present at the last session of the local camp.

Candidates were initiated into the order last night under the direction of C. C. Engelman.

MYSTERY SHOW TO BE GIVEN BY SPANISH VETS

The Admiral Dewey Camp of the United Spanish War Veterans will stage a mystery show at the Memorial hall on Thursday evening, August 5 with professor El Tab, a magician of note, being the chief performer on the bill.

The professor will be assisted by his troupe of ten performers, who will give an exhibition of sleight of hand work, ventriloquism, and mind reading.

The star of the bill will be the coffee escape of Professor El Tab, an illusion that has never failed to bring down a storm of applause.

Ralph Woods, J. E. Robbins and J. Reedy are in charge of the show which will be for the benefit of the camp.

The last meeting of the season was held by the camp last night with Charles Weeden in charge.

Visitors from the neighboring east-bay camps were present at this time and enjoyed the big "feed" served under the direction of J. E. Robbins.

REBEKAHS VISIT PINOLE LODGE AT INSTALLATION

Following a short business meeting last night at the Odd Fellows hall the Richmond Rebekahs, headed by Noble Grand Elizabeth Mitchell journeyed to Pinole where they witnessed the installation of officers of the Pinole lodge of Rebekahs.

The local members were taken to the Pinole ceremony by motor and returned early this morning.

A banquet and a program featured the ceremony at Pinole.

ARMED GUARDS PROTECT WATER IN KINGS RIVER

FRESNO, July 16.—Armed guards seventy strong are said to be stationed along the Kings River near Centerville to prevent owners of land in the river bottom lands, from building dams to divert the waters of the river. The guards are said to be employed by the Fresno irrigation district.

The guards are reported to have torn out several dams constructed by the owners of bottom lands and violence has been threatened although no clashes have as yet occurred.

The war between the two factions is said to have been in progress for several years but is more acute this year it is reported because of the shortage of water.

Forest Fire is Nearing Famous Summer Resort

SANTA CRUZ, July 16.—Fanned by a brisk southeast wind a forest fire starting on the Pizarro ranch four miles north of here was raging over a two mile front and was menacing the Mt. Hermon summer resort at a late hour today according to state fire warden George Gillette.

When the flames reached a point within two miles of the resort which is housing 600 vacationists a call was flashed to Santa Cruz for volunteers to assist the force of sixty men mostly vacationists who were vainly fighting to stem the blaze.

The forest fires raging within the Trinity and Klamath National forests for the past 24 hours are now under control.

The fire on Wild Cat ranch in Marin County was extinguished after it had burned over 200 acres. Approximately 40,000 acres of timber and homestead land in Kern county has been swept by flames now reported under control.

MANY THRILLS IN VOLCANO AT THE CALIFORNIA

If you like thrills and hectic love on your screen menu, you will like Paramount's picturization of Laurence Eyre's stage play, "Maritnik," which reached the California theatre last night under the nom de cinema of "Volcano."

The thrills are provided by the very realistic eruption of Mount La Pelee while the islanders are celebrating their Carnival night. And because of the effects obtained, Director William Howard deserves such medals as the movie manufacturers may give to their prize pupils.

Our love interest is amply taken care of by Bebe Daniels as "the girl," Ricardo Cortez, "the boy," and Wallace Beery, as the villain. Miss Daniels is seen as a little French mademoiselle, who returns to the Isle of Martinique after many years spent in a European convent. Her father is on his death bed, and she must see him before he goes.

The ensuing tale is one of much heart tugging, fine acting, excellent atmosphere and many thrills. A superb cast supports the three featured players named above. Arthur Edmund Carew gives a corking characterization as Cortez's brother, Brandon Hurst is Bebe's father and Eulalie Jensen, her foster-mother, while Sittz Edwards, Marjorie Gray and Edith York are all seen to advantage.

Other features include a comedy adapted from O'Henry's story, "A Social Triangle," "Montana Clouds," an overture scenic, "International News," and Larry Canelo at the organ.

Monte Blue Stars In "Limited Mail" At the Richmond

Thrill succeeded thrill yesterday at the Richmond theatre as the exciting story of "The Limited Mail," a Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen, unfolded itself on the screen. Train wrecks and landslides figured prominently in this picturization of Elmer Vance's melodrama of the West, but the tenseness was relieved by the amusing antics of Willard Louis, who played a carefree tramp Monte Blue. In the leading role gave one of his best performances as a spoiled son of the East who found himself in the rugged mountains of Colorado, recalling the type characterizations in which he first won his screen success. Vera Reynolds made an attractive little waitress and the remainder of the cast was excellent. George Hill was the director. Darryl Francis Zanuck wrote the scenario and Charles Van Enger was the photographer.

Other features include "Your Own Back Yard," an Our Gang comedy; and "Felix Braves the Briny," a Felix the cat cartoon.

PROSPERITY IN NATION SHOWS GREATER GAIN

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—America's prosperity is even greater than a year ago, according to figures issued by the Department of Commerce today. In a bulletin, Secretary Hoover says:

The dollar volume of trade during the second week of July, seen from check payments, was larger than in either the previous week of the same week of last year.

Car loadings during the first week were larger than in either the previous week or the corresponding week of 1925.

The volume of building contracts awarded during the second week was larger than a year ago, while the output of bituminous coal, hewite coke and lumber in the first week of July although larger than a year ago, was smaller than during the preceding week.

Wholesale prices averaged higher than in the first week of the month, but are still substantially below the level of a year ago.

Loans and discounts of Federal Reserve member banks at the end of the second week although larger than a year ago, were smaller than at the end of the preceding week.

Call money rates were easier than in the previous week, but higher than a year ago, while the money rates recorded an advance over the preceding week.

Prices of stocks continued to advance. Fewer business failures were reported during the period than in the first of July, 1925.

A sharp check on unemployment during June compared with May, was reported by the Department of Labor.

Employment in manufacturing industries decreased 0.4 percent, while payroll totals decreased only 0.1 percent, a survey of 10,004 companies, having in June 2,881,672 employees revealed.

These slight decreases indicate a considerable check in the decline in manufacturing reported in May, when the decrease in employment was three times as large as in June.

Employment in June showed an improvement of 1.3 percent over June 1925 payroll totals showed a gain of 4.1 percent and per capita earnings, an increase of 2.8 percent.

Mitchell Puts Blame For Explosion Of Arsenal On Shoulders Of Army And Navy

(By Universal Service)

By FRASER EDWARDS

(Copyright 1926, Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Blame for the Lake Denmark disaster, with its appalling human toll, its accompanying horror and upwards of $100,000,000 property loss was placed squarely upon the Navy and War Departments today by Col. William Mitchell, foremost advocate of an adequate air defense for America. In an exclusive interview with Universal Service.

Charging that the munitions storage facilities at the navy and army arsenals were antiquated and out-of-date, without adequate protection from internal explosion or air attack, Col. Mitchell cited the catastrophe as further evidence of the need of modern military equipment and aerial defense.

Col. Mitchell asserted that the disaster demonstrated the ease with which an enemy air fleet could bomb the great munitions stores along the Atlantic Coast and cripple the United States defenses.

If the Granite powder magazines had been touched off by an aerial torpedo, launched from an enemy airplane, instead of a bolt of lightning, an act of God—Col. Mitchell declared that the arsenal would have gone up in one almost continuous blast instead of a series of explosions, resulting from fires.

The war and navy departments are responsible for the Lake Denmark disaster, declared Col. Mitchell. "There is no excuse for it whatever. It was another piece of gross inefficiency on the part of the bureaucratic organizations of the two defense departments, which think less of protecting the country and more of furthering their own interests and protect the interests that furnish equipment to the army and navy."

The site of the Lake Denmark arsenal was selected about thirty years ago and the equipment there was suited to explosives of that date, which had advanced little since the Civil War. During the World War it became one of the great ammunition depots. The facilities were not adequate to provide for the explosives of modern warfare.

No precautions were taken to protect it from air attack or internal explosion. That was demonstrated by the fact that the black powder magazines—the most dangerous of explosives—which are underground did not go off to add to the hell and horror of the disaster.

The high explosives were housed in virtual shacks. Out of the 275 buildings at Lake Denmark, all but about eighteen were leveled. When an accidental explosion occurs in the Du Pont Powder works, it is usually confined to one building.

"It is a terrific price to pay for a lesson in modern military efficiency and ordinary prudence, but the Lake Denmark disaster must serve to demonstrate once more to the American people that the army and navy bureaucracy is maintaining a system of inefficiency, making useless expenditures and hoodwinking the people on actual conditions of national defense."

"My recent tour through thirty-eight states has convinced me that the American people are aroused over the lamentable lack of our national defense. With thirty-three cents out of every dollar the government is spending going into military functions, the people want to see the defense made adequate."

"The first step was the creation of the Morrow board, which investigated aircraft and in a report to the people brought out a long-winded report that was not in keeping with the facts and summarized the situation by saying that the next war would begin in the air and end in the mud."

"The army and navy bureaucracy is more strongly entrenched as a result of the recommendations of the Morrow board, which were carried out by congress. The assistant secretary of war for air was given the job of running the militia and the reserves. His air duties are secondary. He was given an office in the war department building as far as possible from the air service, located in the munitions building."

"The assistant secretary of the navy for air was given no voice for fear that he might further the condition of aeronautics. When the secretary of the navy and the first assistant secretary of the navy, were absent from Washington recently, the air assistant should have been in charge of the navy department, but instead the ranking naval officer took over the reins because the navy does not want any air man in charge of the department."

"Congress started to rectify these conditions after matters had been brought to a head by me last fall. It was proposed to create a single department of national defense, with sub heads for air, land and sea. But the army and navy bureaucracy, seeing their interlocking directorates in danger, maneuvered to stop it."

"So instead of improving the national defense, the army and navy bureaucracy have been left in complete control."

DELANEY WINS TITLE FROM BERLENBACH, 15 ROUNDS

NEWCHAMP HAD ASTORIA OX AT HIS MERCY

French Canadian Gives Former Champ a Lesson in Fighting During Long Contest

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, July 16.—Ovile Chapdelaine the slender French Canadian whose fighting name is Jack Delaney finally caught up with the world's championship title tonight.

He took the light heavyweight title from Paul Berlenbach the Astoria Ox once accounted the greatest slugger of his time, after 15 rounds.

The two judges and the referee agreed promptly and unanimously on "Delaney and the 43,500 men and women gathered in Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn agreed with them. Not even the most enthusiastic Berlenbach supporter could dispute the decision.

Most of the 15 rounds were given over to a boxing lesson with Chapdelaine serving as the teacher and Paul Berlenbach as a very bewildered and at times a quite stupid pupil.

JACK TAKES TWELVE
I gave the new champion twelve rounds as against two for Berlenbach, one I called even. No dissenting boo came from the big throng as Joe Humphreys consulting the strips of paper that he took from the officials roared "the winner—and the new champion."

The crowd cheered but no long and not because it had been expected the decision. Ovile Chapdelaine had been in front from very early in the struggle.

Berlenbach made a most disappointing fight in defense of his title but it was probably the best fight that he could make in view of the fact that he was so thoroughly out-classed in boxing skill by the French-Canadian who called Bridgeport, Conn., his home.

Moreover there is no doubt that Berlenbach's once deadly punch has gone forever.

He tried his old rushing style against Delaney in the early rounds, but the Frenchmen took all the steam out of him with a rapier like left rip to the stomach and a smashing right uppercut to the chin.

PAUL GROGGY
Berlenbach was so futile that he finally seemed stogy and stupid.

He tried to fight hard enough but he couldn't fight a man he couldn't hit with any effect. Delaney out-stepped him and slipped away from him in shadowy fashion all the while slashing the Ox with whip lash blows. Early in the fight Delaney again tried to knock out the man he threatened once before for the full count but Berlenbach shook off the punches and wouldn't go down. Then Delaney contented himself with playing safe.

ROUND ONE

ROUND TWO
Delaney hooked hard left to mouth, two lefts to face and left to body and received a left to face. Delaney hooked left to stomach. He landed low left and was worned. Paul landed two light rights to head and took two lefts on mouth. Paul snapped Jack's head back with two lefts to mouth. A short right to ear staggered Berly. Jack hooked left to face. Delaney's round.

ROUND THREE

ROUND FOUR

ROUND FIVE
Jack jabbed left to face and hooked left to stomach. Jack hooked left to stomach and Paul fell to his knees. When he rose Jack hooked left and right to stomach. Jack hooked left to cheek. A right on Paul's mouth made him spit blood. Delaney hooked right under heart and left in stomach. Berly hooked left to head. Delaney's round.

ROUND SIX
Jack hooked left to face and took left to body. Delaney hooked left and hard right on chin. Paul landed left swing to head. Jack sent two upper-cuts to chin. Jack hooked left on jaw and left to nose. Delaney's round.

ROUND SEVEN

ROUND EIGHT
Jack landed right uppercut on jaw. Both landed rights to head. Berly's chin cut from uppercut. Paul jabbed two lefts to face and body. Berly's round.

ROUND NINE
Jack hooked right to cheek. Paul landed two lefts to body. Delaney slipped to floor. He hooked lefts and right to face, mouth bleeding. Berly's round.

ROUND TEN
Paul hooked left to mouth. Jack left to face. Delaney dropped right on jaw and took left. Jack hooked right to ribs. Berly's round.

ROUND ELEVEN
Jack jabbed two lefts to face. Berly ran into some rights to heart. Paul started wicked attack that had Jack bleeding from mouth. Delaney's round.

ROUND TWELVE
Jack landed right uppercut to heart. Paul backed away and his left eye was dripping gore. Jack shot hard right to chin. Delaney's round.

ROUND THIRTEEN
Jack hooked left to stomach. Paul rushed into right uppercut. Paul made two rushes and ran into two uppercuts to face. Delaney's round.

ROUND FOURTEEN

ROUND FIFTEEN
They shook hands Jack tapped left to stomach. Paul rushed and they clinched. Paul swung left to head and hooked left to ear. Paul jabbed left to Jack's face. Berlenbach rushed and fell short. Jack hooked right to ear. Paul rushed and missed. Jack swung left in the rear. Jack used two right jolts on jaw. Jack gave right uppercut right on jaw. Delaney landed wicked right to stom-

THEIR BATTLES HAVE JUST BEGUN

Sportographs

GOLF
Francis Onizet and Chick Evans were the first golfers to enter their applications to take part in the Western Golf association amateur tournament to be staged at the White Bear club at St. Paul starting on Monday. The matches will be preceded by a tournament between the western and the east.

RACING
The November ballot will have on it an initiative measure to legalize horse racing in California with the pari-mutual form of betting. The measure is backed by the breeders of the state. The measure was supported by committees of business men from San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles.

PRO FOOTBALL
Maybe pro football in this country will take a stronger foothold since the National League of professional football has promised not to tamper with college players. The incident surrounding the Red Grange case last year has made the league rather sheepish.

DEMPEY VS KEARNS
Yes, the battle is terrible. What battle you may ask. Why the battle between Dempsey and Kearns that has been raging for some time in the sporting pages of a morning newspaper. Dempsey tells the world that he made Kearns and Kearns tells the world that he made Dempsey. Type is being split and yon adverbs and adjectives are being hurled with reckless abandon. How will the battle come out? No one knows and for all that nobody gives a toot of a penny whistle.

MAYFAIR GOES BACK TO WORK AFTER STRIKE

By ROSITA FORBES
(The Woman Explorer)

LONDON, July 16.—Mayfair always has worked. During the strike, in common with most other districts, it worked a little harder. Long ago the so-called "leisure" class ceased to exist as a class, except in the dreams of society paragraphists or the nightmares of the Labour Press.

Mayfair had no unions, no protection against "dilution," but, after war, it plunged gaily into trade, invaded newspaper offices, sent its sons to be shopwalkers and its daughters to be secretaries. Because they were beginners, they changed their jobs as often as the color of their lipstick or the cut of their evening waistcoats.

With American elasticity, if there was a slump in millinery, they became decorators or gardeners, or directors of cinemas and advertising agencies. They stock-farmed when it was not, and built everything from antique furniture to East Africa grain. The strike only swelled their ranks with fathers and elder brothers.

"Distinctions are out of date," announced the most perfect butler I've ever known—the kind whose smile makes one feel canonical—and transformed himself into a dock-hand. I understand the eight M. P.s who ran Westminster Bridge Station, with a future duke in charge of the washing arrangements, are all going to qualify as station masters.

How flat youth will find the season after its excitement when it turned night into day with more enthusiasm than it has displayed since the war. A debutante of Belgrave-square danced at her coming-out ball on Black Monday, but each subsequent dawn found her distributing papers in the suburbs, as a preliminary to a double shift in a canteen.

The youngest of brides, and a princess to boot, was driving her new car when an urgent call on the transport park sent fifty cars to Wales, headed by the princess's phantom Rolls. "Much more fun," she said, "than inspecting steel houses which my husband is building in the most ungettable places!"

The canteens in Hyde Park were more popular than Ascot's royal enclosure, and much more difficult of attainment. A Cabinet Minister's wife cooked sausages. "The middles will wriggle out," she bewailed. "Prick them at both ends," ordered the loveliest lady in Mayfair, who runs a cookery school.

A future marchioness won fame as a "runner," for she could remember between kitchen and dining-room more orders than any one else.

There is nothing static about 1926, whether it be in Mayfair or Tooting Bec, and the only certain thing with us is the income tax! Everybody found out what a lot of things everybody else was able to do, and it was this adaptability, essentially modern and as universal, which stopped the strike.

Charley Birch of Richmond got the nod over Joe Mirevella in what was considered the best fight of the evening. The boys mixed it good and plenty in all four of their rounds and both were well supported by the crowd because of their work.

Jimmy White of Oakland stopped Batink White in the second round of a scheduled four round go. White opened a bad cut over Batink's eye in the second. Cantio and Neil stopped the battle.

There are no sacred barriers round the skilled trades such as the unions erected and locked with the word "dilution." In Essex a couple of Mayfair's younger sons have been building a bungalow during week-ends, free from the Stock Exchange, and, beginning at 5 a. m., lay more bricks in two days than the union rate per week.

Now Mayfair has gone back to work. Eton cropped or shingled, you'll find her from ten to six in shops and businesses, with an ink-smudged chin in Whitehall or a ferocious frown in the city.

Top-hatted in Tread-needle-street, frock-coated at the emporium, you'll find Mayfair dreaming of the chance it got in the strike!

MCRACKEN PIN CRASHERS TAKE LEAGUE TITLE

The McRacken bowling team took the championship of the Merchants league from the Harry Harbers last night at the Seventh street alley by a margin of two points. But one game was played and it proved fast and furious. The final results were: McRackens—234.

Harry's Barbers—234.
The game proved fast and furious and a large crowd was on hand.

This game definitely ends the Merchant's league for this season.

Overland Whippet Car Makes Debut Today In Richmond At J. P. Strom's Salesroom

It has been anticipated for some months that a large American builder of motor cars would soon be on the market with a European type low, light car. The initial production of what may be the forerunner of a complete change in our great mass production of light automobiles makes its appearance in this city today at the J. P. Strom agency. It is the Overland Whippet on which the engineers of Willys-Overland, Inc., have been working, both here and in Europe, for the past two years.

This new car is totally different from anything we have ever seen before in this country. It looks different, it acts different and it serves a different but constantly increasing demand. Mechanically, it is an adaptation of the best that Europe has to offer in the way of powerful, economical engines, with a wide speed range, more power for climbing than has characterized even the best of the European productions, and with a flexibility, silence and smoothness of running which is new to our light car production.

It is a quality product in every detail from the trim, smart, extremely low hung body with its brilliant finish and superb upholstery to the last detail of its mechanical construction.

The sedan will travel 58 miles an hour, as easily and comfortably as the great majority of our present day "sixes" and yet it is equipped with a four-cylinder motor.

It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 10 seconds, or in just half a second more time than some of our largest and most flexible "sixes" and it will cover 25 to 30 miles on a gallon of fuel.

It will stop in a little over twice its own length from an average driving speed for it is equipped with four wheel brakes, having a drum diameter of 11 inches which is larger than those on many of our large cars.

The motor develops 23 per cent more power, per cubic inch of piston displacement, than any other light four-cylinder motor built in America; this is one of the results of utilizing the European type of high speed motor design. It develops greater brake horsepower than any other light four-cylinder car in this country and yet it weighs just a little over 2000 pounds, ready for the road. The power plant turns over 2800 revolutions a minute and gives a developed power of 30.5 H. P. from an S. A. E. rating of 16.6 H. P. The total piston displacement is 134.2 cubic inches, somewhat larger than that of the average European light car, but less than any other American built four cylinder car.

LOW BODY
The roof of this new type car is only 5 feet, 3 inches from the ground yet the room inside the body is greater than in any other light car now on the market. Its first appearance is striking in the extreme. A man of average height can stand alongside it at the curb and rest his arms on the top and look over it. But a six footer can sit in it with all the room he wants. In this respect it is thoroughly American and bears no relationship to its diminutively dimensioned European cousins.

Inside, the body is 45 inches from floor to roof and there are 36 inches between the top of the seats and the roof. The seats are approximately 12 inches from the floor to the top of the cushions. There are 36 inches of space from the front of the front seat cushion to the clutch and brake pedals. In the rear seating compartment there are 36 1/2 inches, affording greater room for the occupants of the rear seat than is found in any other light car built.

To give room for stretching out in the front seat, the metal dash is curved forward several inches and there is as much leg room in this compartment as there is in the rear.

The front seat is 40 1/2 inches wide and the rear seat is 45 1/2 inches wide, the conventional widths for these two seats.

The doors are wide and hung on four hinges so that it is extremely easy to get in or out.

Perhaps one of the greatest surprises this car has to offer, outside of its performance ability, is the roominess in the body.

And the body lines are aristocratic in every way. A conspicuous feature is the construction of the sunvisor which is formed by continuing the roof forward in a graceful down swinging curve. This is nobly tailoring for even the best of cars and is a hallmark of quality in this Overland Whippet.

The radiator is conspicuously high and narrow and is housed in a deep, nicked shell. The body lines sweep gracefully back without any break at the cowl giving an appearance which is intriguing in the extreme.

The bullet headlamps have nickel-plated shells and are strongly supported with a tie-rod at the front.

NEW SIZE TIRES
Tire sizes present something entirely new, being 27 inches in diameter with a 4.40 inch cross section, and are of the balloon type. These are the smallest tires ever used as stock equipment but the tire makers have already anticipated a huge demand for this Overland Whippet and dealers are stocking these sizes at the present time.

J. P. STROM

J. P. Strom Richmond automobile merchant who is today introducing the new "Whippet" to the motoring public to Richmond.

It is the claim of the engineers that this size of tire on the Whippet will result in exceptionally long tire service and forecasts of as high as 20,000 miles to the set have been made.

FINE APPOINTMENTS
The interior appointments of this car are tasty in every way. The instrument board is of metal with a Circassian walnut finish on a gracefully designed panel. The board carries the starting and lighting switch, oil gauge, ammeter, speedometer and dash lamp.

A frosted glass dome light adorns the rear compartment. Upholstery is of a fine ribbed velvet of rich coloring and fine fabric. The levers for lifting or dropping the windows are nickel-plated. The windows are unusually wide and the windshield is of the one-piece type which has come into fashion among the finer types of automobiles.

In appointments as in design and performance this Overland Whippet is a distinct revelation in the light car field.

MECHANICAL FEATURES
As has been prophesied during the past few months, this, the first of the European type light cars to be built in this country is designed along the most advanced of modern engineering lines to get a wide range of power and performance from small and therefore economical motor dimensions.

The bore is 3 1/8 inches and the stroke is 4 3/8 inches giving a piston displacement of 134.2 inches. This is somewhat larger than the average for the European type motors but is smaller than any other American built motor of stock production. The increase over the English and French dimensions was made to give the car certain performance features in high gear which are not required by European users. It is said that this Whippet will climb any hill that any of our best light sixes will climb in high and its comparative acceleration has already been demonstrated.

The pistons are of cast iron but are extremely light in weight as are the connecting rods. The crankshaft is short and heavier than that used in any other four-cylinder car of equivalent dimensions, and weighs 27 pounds. It is balanced statically and dynamically and eliminates whipping and vibration to a degree never before achieved in a four-cylinder motor.

The connecting rods are long and designed to eliminate whipping or piston slap at high car speeds.

The oiling system comes in for especially attention. It is a modern full pressure system. A drilled crank shaft is offered for the first time in light car construction in this motor. The whole design of the lubricating system follows the practice set for our larger cars, oil being forced through the crankshaft to the bearings and thrown off the main bearings to lubricate the cylinder walls and valve mechanism.

The oil reservoir is in the pressed steel motor base and the baffle plates keep the oil from surging away from the pump.

Cooling is by pump circulatory system with over 8000 square inches of cooling area.

FOUR WHEEL BRAKES
An innovation in light car construction is found in the four wheel brakes which are of the type of design used on better than 90 per cent of the finest European cars where all types of four wheel brakes have been thoroughly tested and tried out. The brake drums are 11 inches in diameter giving a braking surface greater than on many larger cars.

Overland engineers say that the type of brakes used on the Whippet grow better and more efficient with use. The elaborate attention which has been paid to braking equipment in this car has come as a result of the performance capacity which, with its rapid acceleration and its high speed capacity requires a prompt acting and highly efficient system of control.

UNIT SYSTEM POWER PLANT
Motor, clutch and transmission are in one unit, the clutch being of the single plate type, transmission being the modern three forward speed, selective sliding construction with an extra long change gear lever to facilitate the operation of the gear shift.

An enclosed propeller shaft is used and the rear axle is of the semi-floating type with the axle members removable. It is carried in a banjo type rear axle housing.

STARTING AND LIGHTING
Auto-Lite system, two unit construction starting and lighting is employed and an Auto-Lite ignition system is used. This is in line with the use of this type of equipment throughout the entire production of Overland and Willys-Knight cars.

PRESAGES RADICAL CHANGES IN LIGHT CARS
The Overland Whippet is an innovation. And it has all the earmarks of being one of those developments which make history in the industry. It resembles nothing on the market in its size class. In its constructional features, in its lines, in its concessions to comfort and appearance, it is a car which ranks along with the finest productions which are being put out in the motor car world today.

If it differs from the cars after which it is patterned, the European models, in that it has standard 65 inch tread and is in every way a motor car of size. It should effectively end the prospects of any European invasion of the American market with light cars.

Men familiar with the European market say that it will be a serious rival to all of the European light car production and the factory has already laid elaborate plans through the Willys-Overland Crossley Co., of Manchester, England to go after the European trade in a huge way.

It has already been viewed by men prominent in Australian and Oriental motor car markets and has been hailed as the greatest car ever developed for these countries.

But it differs equally much from all established American manufacturing in the way it is built.

Its very constructional differences should constitute the basis for its first general acceptance for it has the distinction of being different. The lowness of the body is increasingly attractive as the car is studied, especially after the car has been ridden in over rough roads or through traffic. This traffic driving feature is one of great interest for the Whippet threads through the traffic maze of the most congested streets with an ease that is surprising.

And it parks with the most astonishing ease, requiring hardly more than a thin dime's worth of room to back up against the curb.

Certainly its performance ability will find ready recognition for it will be a new experience to the average light car owner to be able to drive at 60 miles an hour with a feeling of perfect security and to step away in traffic at the acceleration rate which has been demonstrated as a quality of the Whippet.

If the claims of the engineers to from 28 to 30 miles from a gallon of fuel in average driving, are borne out in the hands of owners, this Whippet will reduce the gasoline consumption in the light car class from 40 to 50 per cent and being sold at sacrifice, owner moving to small apartment. Call after 9 a. m. Saturday or Sunday, 500 Hayes Street, corner of Barrett.

MEET POPULAR DEMAND
For months many of the most expert minds in the country have been heralding something new and totally different in motor car construction. Geologists have argued that it would be necessary to develop 30 miles to the gallon cars if we were to be able to continue to use automobiles on account of the serious drains on our gasoline production. Traffic experts have argued that lighter cars, less bulky, faster on their feet and parking in less room, were necessary if we were to continue to have the use of our city streets for driving.

Car owners have looked to a relief from slow moving on the highways where the traffic lines string out for miles on Sundays.

This Overland Whippet, according to its performance standards, should be able to meet all of

TWENTY-SEVEN ARE KILLED IN AUTO CRASHES

Automobile deaths for the first six months of 1926 in Oakland numbered 27, exactly the same as for the same period of last year but accidents and non fatal injuries were greatly increased. It is shown in the report of F. I. Anderson, Executive Secretary of the Eastbay Safety Council made public today.

Injuries of all kinds for the first six months of this year numbered 749 whereas last year, for the full twelve months there were only 1016 injuries.

May and June of this year brought the largest number of automobile deaths, seven persons having been killed during each of these months. Sundays and Mondays are the most dangerous days, with six deaths shown as having happened on each of these days. Only one person was killed on Friday during the first half year. Seven persons met death between 8 o'clock and 10 o'clock in the evening. Eighteen persons were killed at intersections, indicating, according to the Safety Council that the Boulevard Stop Law, unless rigidly enforced, may become a positive hazard. In as much as the motorist on the main boulevard naturally expects the driver from the side street to come to a full stop. Trains at crossings killed four. In five cases out of the 27 deaths, the driver was killed. In eight cases, the occupants of the automobiles met death. Fourteen pedestrians were killed. Four of the victims were under 20 years of age. Only one child of school age was killed and this fact is pointed to as significant in view of the Junior Safety Council instruction which has been inaugurated in the schools at the suggestion of the Safety Council. The 11 year old child was killed by a reckless motorist as the child was alighting from a street car, on a Sunday afternoon.

Twenty three of the fatal accidents were caused by speeding, reckless driving and carelessness on the part of the driver. There were only two hit and run cases during the period.

The non-fatal accidents involved 1473 drivers, of which only 125 were women.

The bulk of responsibility for the 27 deaths were placed on the automobile driver, 18 deaths were charged to the driver, 6 to the pedestrian, one jointly to pedestrian and driver and two rated as unavoidable.

The Safety Council announced that it will continue the campaign which has been prosecuted with special vigor during the last week with the object of bringing about, if possible, a reduction in automobile deaths for 1926.

The Safety Council will hold its annual election on the afternoon of July 22nd at which new officers will be chosen, committees appointed and a definite program worked out, not only for Oakland but for cooperation with all other communities in Alameda county. It was announced by Oliver Kehring, the retiring president.

E. P. Burns is ill at his home 2126 Barrett avenue. Burns is the local Raleigh agent. Dr. E. R. Guinan, attending physician, has diagnosed the case as bronchitis.

these requirements.

It is not to be unexpected that it will be the type of car that will soon be generally seen in our busiest streets for owners of larger cars will want something along the Whippet lines for town driving. It is not unlikely to look for it to make heavy inroads in other light car sales fields for it has the performance ability that light car owners have been looking for. It should prove a welcome car at country clubs for it has the snap and verve that the average patron of such clubs wants.

Good style in everything else has been marked by greater snap, less material, and more economy of space—shorter skirts, bobbed hair, bungalow type homes—why not the Whippet as the new fashion mold of the American built car.

PAPE CONTRADICTED

Arthur Veitch, attorney for Mrs. McPherson, announced that three affidavits in his possession flatly contradict the testimony of O. C. Pape, Tucson automobile dealer, that he saw the evangelist at Agua Prieta previous to her appearance there on June 23. Veitch declared the two women and man Pape saw were Mr. R. Umphrey, Mrs. Marie McCarthy and Frank Booth of Los Angeles. It was Mrs. Umphrey that Pape mistook for Mrs. McPherson, according to the attorney. The affidavits are by Booth and the two women.

NEW SENSATION

A sensational report sprang into circulation today that the already powerful broadcasting station at Angelus Temple had been increased in power until it could be heard throughout the country, and that Mrs. McPherson had been heard crying, "Run! Run!" in the midst of her radio talks. Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, scoffed at this report, and Temple attaches denied that any change had been made in the power of the station, KFSG.

New complication were added today when Dennis Collins, Salinas garage employee, denied that he had identified or could identify Mrs. McPherson as the woman he saw with a man, presumed to be Ormiston, in Salinas during the time she was missing.

Deputy District Attorney Ryan, who is said to have told the grand jury at its last session, that the garage man had made the identification from photographs, reiterated his reported assertion, and said that he could bring five witnesses to prove that Collins identified pictures of both Mrs. McPherson and Ormiston. Collins declared today that he "couldn't identify the woman in the car as Mrs. McPherson or any other woman."

Other superior court judges were said to be preparing to join with Judge Arthur Keetch in a protest at the way the investigation is being handled by the grand jury. The jurors, on the other hand, were reported to be rebelling against the "silence" order in which Judge Keetch instructed them that unless they returned an indictment they could make no report whatever.

citizens of Richmond, and known in all parts of the county, for his active work with the Boy Scouts, now being the county commissioner.

Glineburg was born in Bismark, North Dakota, in 1888, and resided there till he was thirteen years old when he came to California. The past five years he has been a resident of this city, and has been connected with the guard department of the Standard Oil company where a part of his duties consisted of protecting the property of the company.

In the early part of 1910 he went to Shanghai, China, where he did secret service work under Amos P. Wilder, the consul general.

Glineburg is a man of family, a taxpayer of the county, owns his own home at 932 Yuba avenue, believes in good government, is not connected with any "political combination" in any way, but is an independent candidate. During the time he was in China, he found time from his duties to take a very active part in the organizing of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A., and since his sojourn in Contra Costa, he has been equally as active in the great work of the Boy Scouts. He was one of the organizers of the Contra Costa Scout Masters, and was its first president, serving in that capacity for one year. He is also Scoutmaster of Troop No. 1 and Cub Troop No. 1 in Richmond.

In speaking with a RECORD-HERALD representative over the telephone last night Glineburg said:

"I am in the fight to win. If elected, and I have every reason to believe that my campaign will be successful, I promise that the laws on the statute books will be enforced. I will treat everyone with the utmost courtesy and fairness, no matter be he high or low. My fight will be a clean one, and I am going out to make a thorough canvass of the county, asking for the support of the voters. 'I believe my experience has fitted me for the office I am now seeking.'"

Rev and Mrs. Harry Milnes, of Stockton were guests at the home of Rev and Mrs. C. F. Withrow of Pinole this week. Milnes is pastor of the Stockton Methodist church.
